EDITORS AS OAKLAND'S GUESTS

Commercial Club Gives Luncheon in Honor of Visitors

Brief Business Session Held in Municipal Auditorium

With the Chamber of Commerce-Commercial club officials as hosts, 300 members of the National Editorial association and their families were Oakland's official guests today. Arriving this morning, they held a brief session in the Municipal Auditorium, following which they were guests at luncheon at the Hotel Oakland, and this afternoon they saw Oakland and Berkeley from the hills on an auto trip, also under the auspices of the Oakland business men. Tomorrow they will be taken on a trip about the bay on the tug Slocum, lunching at Winehaven and touching at all points of interest on the east bay shores.

The delegates arrived this morning to meet first at the Art Gallery in the Auditorium, where Managing Director J. E. Caine of the Chamber of Commerce-Commercial club, and Secretary Higgins, representing Mayor John L. Davis, welcomed them in the name of Oakland. At the luncheon in the Hotel Oakland President Metcalf of the commercial organization again welcomed them to the city.

Returning, President George E. Hosmer of Denver opened this morning's session, Higgins being the first speaker.

MAYOR NOT PRESENT.
"Members of the National Editorial association," he said, "it is with profound regret that the newly inaugurated mayor of this city is forced to be absent. It is my privilege to be here to welcome you in his place. You are here on a visit—and we appreciate it and heartily welcome you. We are glad to welcome an organization taking so prominent a part in public affairs as yours does. And, to be brief and to the point, Oakland is yours."

"Of all chambers of commerce in the West," said President Hosmer, "the Oakland Chamber of Commerce-Commercial club is best known, and I take pleasure in introducing Managing Director Joseph E. Caine of that body."

"In my early youth," said Caine, "I broke into the newspaper profession and followed it for many years. I have reformed now and am leading a better life—but the love of the profession is with me still, and on this account I am doubly glad to welcome this organization to Oakland. We have planned a luncheon and an auto ride, that you may meet our citizens and see our city, and tomorrow you shall see the whole bay region on your bay trip. We are proud to show you our city."

"You will see Berkeley and the Greek theater this afternoon. Entering Berkeley you will see a sign post, 'Berkeley city limits.' Speed, four miles an hour, and backing up you will see another post. It says, 'Oakland.' Slow down to twenty miles. So, remember, no matter what you do in Berkeley, you go to slow down to twice the speed here."

SEEK OUT ACTIVITIES.
"I wish to say on behalf of the association," said H. P. Hotelling of Minnesota, "that we are very glad to be in Oakland and meet Oakland's people. We have seen your activities and will carry away with us the best of feelings."

A resolution presented by the resolutions committee was then passed, as follows:
Resolved, That the members of this association, thank the Secretary of the Navy for his courtesy in turning over to us the battleship Oregon for our trip, and also President Hosmer and the committee and the commercial organizations of Oakland and Berkeley for their entertainment."

Lee J. Rountree of Texas, new president of the association, was then elected and took the chair. He omitted any preliminary speech, but at once called for committee reports. Reports on changes in the by-laws, providing for 32 membership dues and convention fees, were passed upon.

J. Higgins of New York spoke on the present trip. "We seem to have struck the river of American hospitality," he declared. "Mrs. A. Moffitt of Indiana expressed her pleasure in the trip, thanking the officers and local committees for their efforts."

On adjournment of the session, the gathering at once proceeded to the hotel, where the local committees were awaiting them.

Secretary J. E. Caine and President Metcalf and the different committees of the club were in attendance. The luncheon was informal and no set addresses were made on account of the plans for the auto trip. This included Berkeley and Oakland and the Highland drive.

Tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock the guests of the day will sail from the foot of Broadway in the tug Slocum for the bay trip. Tourist and smoker in the Hotel Oakland have been arranged for the men of the editorial party.

Injunction Against Educators Sought
The petition of Herman Klarnet for a permanent injunction against the members of the Oakland Board of Education restraining them from revoking the appointments of C. L. Turner and J. L. Taylor, as auditor and superintendent of the schools, and granting respectively to install A. L. Hanford and F. C. Bligant in the positions will be heard next Thursday in the Superior Court.

GERMAN COLONY IN AFRICA CONQUERED

SPOUSE FIGHTS FOR FORTUNE

Cut Off in $50,000 Will: Contests Estate

Contest over the $50,000 estate of the late Mary Gilroy, who died a year ago, was commenced in the superior court today by her husband, John Gilroy, a mining man, of 350 Sixteenth street, who was cut off in her last will, which was dated two months before her death, in May, 1914.

The property was left to a daughter, Mrs. Annie Carroll of San Francisco, who receives one-half, and to Mary and May Murray of Oakland, two nieces, between whom the other half was divided.

Attorneys Stanley Moore and Elliott Johnson, representing the husband, have filed a petition for revocation of probate of the will, which was ordered in July, 1914. It is alleged that at the time the will was made, and for three years prior to the death of Mrs. Gilroy, she was incapable of making disposition of her property.

It is also declared that the estate is community property, and was accumulated mostly through the efforts of the husband.

DAVIE WANTS SON TO RUN $3000 AUTO

Mayor John L. Davis is not only determined to have a $3000 automobile, but he is going to have as his chauffeur his own son, F. M. Davis, according to his statement today in an informal conversation after the council meeting to Commissioners W. H. Edwards and W. J. Baccus.

The two commissioners were joined by Davis as he was leaving the council chamber and a discussion arose as to the propriety of appointing $3000 at this time for the mayor's new machine.

"I am against you on that," said Commissioner Edwards. "I don't think it is a good proposition. We have got machines that you could use."

"I wouldn't ride in one of those," said Mayor Davis, "and I want a machine that I can use all the time. I am going to have it here at 7:30 or 8 o'clock in the morning and work until 5 o'clock. I am not going to be like the other fellow to get here at 11 and quit at 12, just walking up from my office an hour and then back again. I am going to know every street in this city and what condition it is in."

"More power to you," commented Commissioner W. J. Baccus, who voted with Mayor Davis in favor of passing the ordinance to print appropriating the money.

"Sure," said the mayor, "and I am going to have my own son to drive it for me. I know he can handle a machine and I can trust him. I am not going to sit with anybody who is going to get me into an accident."

The position of chauffeur for the mayor has not as yet been created, as former Mayor Mott did not have an automobile. It is said by other members of the council that it would have to be under civil service, but Mayor Davis has not committed himself on this matter as yet.

COMMONER SPEAKS TO BAPTISTS

Former Secretary Takes First Commandment as His Text

Visiting Editors Also Guests of City, Harken to Oration

These are the gods worshipped by the American people, according to William Jennings Bryan, former secretary of state, who spoke in Oakland this morning.

GOD OF WEALTH.
GOD OF FASHION.
GOD OF FAME.
GOD OF PHYSICAL COMFORT.
GOD OF INTELLECT.
GOD OF TRAVEL.
GOD OF CHANGE.
GOD OF PASSION.
GOD OF DRINK.

William Jennings Bryan held several thousand people at attention in the Municipal Auditorium this morning, when he talked on the First Commandment—"Thou Shalt Have No Other Gods Before Me."

As the great commoner ascended the platform, the vast throng arose and mightily cheered.

Bryan was presented by Joseph E. Caine of the Commercial Club, who said:

"Mr. Bryan is too well known to the citizens of the United States to need any introduction."

Bryan said:
"Ladies and gentlemen, I did not want a long introduction to you because of two reasons—first, it is embarrassing to have compliments; things said; second, it is irritating to have anything else but complimentary words spoken. I have for some years, 15 in fact, been discussing religious subjects and always give preference to an organization of this matter, an organization representing a select group."

"If one wishes to sow seed he becomes interested in the soil. That determines what the crop will be. If a person has anything to say he wants it to multiply and bring forth fruit. My subject this morning will be the First Commandment, 'Thou Shalt Have No Other Gods Before Me.' The fact is that the crop will be the most important of the commandments. Comparison with the other commandments proves this. I am not content to let this statement rest on assumption that because it is the first commandment it is the most important."

THE CHRIST MESSAGE.
"In answer to a query by a lawyer, Christ expressed himself as to the relative importance of all the commandments. Lawyers do a great deal of good, sometimes, when they don't intend to. Now, don't think that I wish to belittle the profession, for my father was a lawyer, my only son is a lawyer and I trained for the law, but was diverted by politics. I will return to the lawyer's question, first, again stating that lawyers sometimes do good when they don't intend to. Christ was asked, 'Who shall be the first in the Kingdom of Heaven?' He said, 'Let him who will be chiefest among you be the servant of all.' Christ put the seal of approval on the First Commandment."

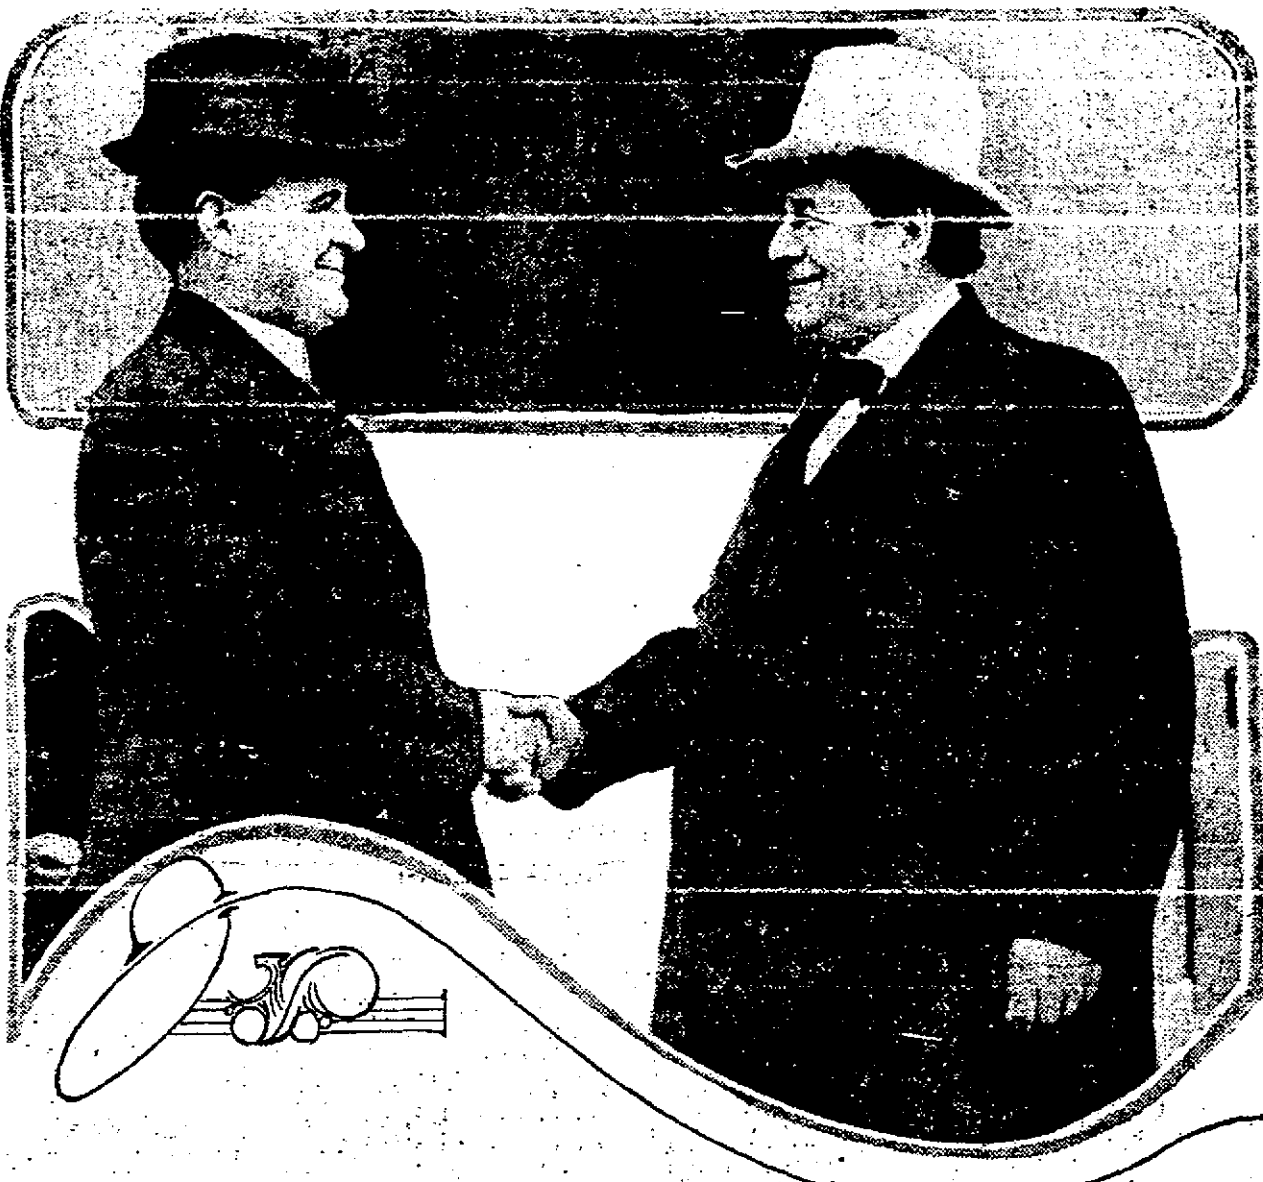

"Some people state that the second commandment of 'thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself' comes first. One day, a day which I value most of any in my life, I spent with Tolstol. In speaking of the commandments he said: 'Some people emphasize the second commandment because it deals with man's relationship with his fellow man.' Tolstol believed that unless you love God you do not know who your neighbor is."

"Man's first duty is to get right with God. By so doing he makes his plan of life harmonize with the plan of the universe. Love of God compels a belief in the practical value of religion, instead of being a dreamy thing, is most practical."

BETWEEN MAN AND GOD.
"Tolstol told me that religion is the relationship man fixes between himself and his God."

"Morality is the outward manifestation of what is inwardly manifested. Religion is the basis of man's life, of his morals and character."

DIVORCEE TO BOTH TAKES CHILD, SIX, HONEYMOON IN ORIENT? PROVINCE FOR KING READY FOR 'HI' SCHOOL

SAN FRANCISCO, July 9.—Mrs. "Jack" Speckels, divorced wife of John P. Speckels Jr. and one of the most popular matrons in local society, will likely make a dash into the war zone, following a trip to the Orient, which will begin tomorrow.

That Mrs. Speckels had any intentions of going into the region of European hostilities was a deep, dark secret until today when she made application for passports. Moreover, her fiancé, Franklin W. Wakefield, made a similar application to Uncle Sam.

The two applications did not come together, but it is understood that Wakefield contemplates leaving here in three weeks for an oriental trip, and it is possible that Cupid's final arrow will be sent to its mark amidst the romantic surroundings of the far East.

Mrs. Speckels will depart on the steamer Siberia and her passport will be sent after her. Wakefield will probably receive his papers from Washington before he leaves. Mrs. Speckels will receive her final decree of divorce on August 22.

"High Living" Brother Accused by Family

With his brother and young sister arraigned against him, William F. Ryan, former guardian of Jeannette Loretta Ryan, 13 years of age, of 307 Hanover street, was made defendant today in a suit brought to recover $1977 alleged to have been spent in riotous living.

William F. Ryan disappeared from San Francisco several months ago. He was succeeded as guardian of his sister by James H. Ryan, who now joins with her in seeking to recover the amount alleged to have been overdrawn. Ryan was supposed to collect $30 per month from the legacy in trust with him, but is said to have exceeded this amount on several occasions, going on "joy rides" and living in an expensive hotel. James Ryan, the present guardian, is head of a large importing company of San Francisco and New York. The brother who disappeared was traveling representative for an Eastern concern.

By Associated Press.
PRETORIA, South Africa, via London, July 9, 11 a. m.—General Botha, commander of the forces of the Union of South Africa, has accepted the surrender of all German military forces in German Southwest Africa.

The Germans surrendered unconditionally following the issuance of General Botha's ultimatum, which expired at 5 o'clock Thursday evening.

With the exception of the necessary army of occupation the citizen army will be brought home as quickly as possible.

After suppressing the rebellion against British authority in the Union of South Africa, General Botha took command of British operations against German Southwest Africa and headed an invasion of that territory late in February. His operations were reported to be uniformly successful.

The forces under his command captured Olymbingue on May 4. Two days later he was announced that he had occupied the important railway junction of Karibib and other stations after a march of thirty-five miles over a waterless waste of virgin desert. The German territory was taken May 23, without opposition on the part of the German forces.

German Southwest Africa is on the west coast of Africa. The area is 322,000 square miles. The population is 78,558. Bismarck, which has stumped many an chiefly Hottentots and bushmen. The adult "If a mother sends a child down

BERKELEY, July 9.—"Although she is only 6 years old, this child is mentally qualified to enter the high school."

With these words Dr. Henry H. Goddard, psychologist of the University summer session faculty, announced the results of his test of the mind of Gladys Willard, a San Francisco child, and the discovery of the most remarkable case of supernormal mental development that has been brought to the attention of scientists for many years.

In her examination Gladys passed all the Binet tests, including that for the normal adult. She can read a difficult University announcement with ease, and is quick to apprehend any tricky meanings in catch questions that were put to her," declared Dr. Goddard.

When asked "If a man married his widowed sister, what relation would she be to his children?" she replied, quick as a flash, "He couldn't have any widow unless he was dead."

FINDS MISTAKES.
Another question: "What is wrong with the sentence: 'The man walked down the street with his hands in his pockets, twirling his cane.'" She also picked out the absurdity immediately.

Gladys knew how to read when she was 5 years old, teaching herself with the aid of lettered blocks. Mrs. Willard has made no attempt to force her development. She speaks French, she has read "Treasure Island," and can tell you offhand that it was taken May 23, without opposition on the part of the German forces.

Her ingenuity is equal to that of many of the adults. She readily arrived at the solution of one of the questions in the Binet test which has stumped many an adult: "If a mother sends a child down

NOTE GIVEN TO GERARD IN BERLIN

Document, Being Translated, to Be Cabled Today

Wilson Awaits Its Arrival; Austria Makes Apology

By Associated Press.
BERLIN, July 9, 10:50 a. m., via London, July 9, 1:50 p. m.—The German reply to the American note regarding the sinking of the Lusitania and submarine warfare, was delivered to James W. Gerard, the American ambassador in Berlin, late last night.

The note is now being translated, and it will go forward to Washington some time today.

Certain paragraphs embodying the principal features of the German offer already have been dispatched to Washington, but the final sections of the communication probably will not be on the wire for transmission before a late hour this afternoon.

The text of the note meanwhile will be withheld from the newspaper correspondents and permission to the transmissions of summaries is being withheld. This is done to give the official version the right of way.

AUSTRIA APOLOGETIC TO U.S.

By Associated Press.
VIENNA, Austria, July 9, via London, 10:45 a. m.—Formal apology has been made by the Austro-Hungarian government to the United States Ambassador Frederick C. Penfield because of an abusive article printed in the Neues Wiener Tagblatt, attacking President Wilson and the American people in connection with the second note protesting against German methods of submarine warfare.

As a rigid censorship is exercised over Austrian papers, Ambassador Penfield had informally asked the foreign office if the article represented the opinion of the Austrian government. The result was an apology and a sharp reprimand for the official censor.

PRESIDENT PLANS RETURN

By Associated Press.
CORNISH, N. H., July 9.—President Wilson first learned through unofficial dispatches today of the delivery to Ambassador Gerard at Berlin last night of the German government's answer to the last American note on the Lusitania and submarine warfare in general.

The President made no comment, but it was stated at Easton, N. H., that he probably would leave Washington within a few days to discuss the note with Secretary Lansing and other of his advisers and to determine what position the United States government should take.

ANSWER UP TO PRESIDENT

By Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, July 9.—Delivery of Germany's reply to the American note on submarine warfare to Ambassador Gerard in Berlin last night should bring the official text to the State Department here probably tomorrow, and undoubtedly by Sunday.

President Wilson is expected to return from the summer White House at Cornish to day the reply before the cabinet at a meeting Tuesday. All officials here realize that there probably has been an essential change from the form in which the reply was outlined by the Berlin foreign office to Ambassador Gerard. On the basis of that outline the American government declined to engage in any supplementary negotiations because the German proposals were regarded as such which the United States could not accept without sacrificing many of its rights.

TENSION ENSUES.
Meanwhile there is a renewal of the tension over what the next step will be if the text of the German reply bears out the unofficial outlines which indicated that it would be so unsatisfactory to the United States.

Although officials would not comment, saying that the phraseology first must be studied, the general undertone in official quarters was one of disappointment. What the President's course will be no official would predict, but it was evident that another critical stage in the relations between Germany and the United States was at hand.

Some of the President's advisers, however, considered probable, would be to reject the German proposals and notify the Berlin government in effect that the United States intended to insist on the principle of visit and search of all carrying arms and that specific violations of these rights would determine the next step in the American policy.

LUSITANIA INCIDENT.

As for the Lusitania case, however, failure by Britain to admit liability for the loss of more than 300 American lives is a phase of the situation on which there were today few suggestions as to what the United States should do.

A repeated comment that the breach of international law was so flagrant that it remained only for the United States to have no diplomatic intercourse with the German government unless the intent of the act was denied and reparation was promised.

The negotiation over the conduct of German submarines has been overshadowed by the Lusitania case itself, but there were indications today that the new German note would cause a return to the Lusitania case as a foremost issue.

300 YELLOWSTONE TOURISTS ROBBED

By Associated Press.
LIVINGSTON, Montana, July 9.—Three hundred tourists were held up and robbed near the west side of Yellowstone National Park today, according to word received here. No particulars have been received so far.

Imperial Potentate Frederick R. Smith of Rochester, New York, and other members of the Imperial Divan, Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, as well as several hundred delegates enroute to the convention in Seattle, are seeing the sights in the Yellowstone Park today and some of them are no doubt among the victims of the highwaymen.

CHILD SIX, READY FOR HIGH SCHOOL

Mentally Qualified to Enter Advanced Institution, Professor Declares.

The child is a normal girl of 6 with a healthy development. She is fond of play, but in her play associates with children of 13 and 14, among whom she is a leader. She is as unselfish as a child of 6. In certain particulars she exhibits childish traits.

Although the child is mentally qualified to enter the high school, she will not be sent if the advice of Dr. Goddard is followed. He is an opponent of forcing mental development and recognizing the fact that the Willard child's development is not normal. A child of 6 should be protected against doing herself harm by too much study.

369,151 Rats Killed by U. S. at New Orleans

By Associated Press.
NEW ORLEANS, July 9.—Since Federal authorities took charge of the bubonic plague situation here and began a year ago a campaign against rats, 369,151 rodents have been trapped and killed, according to a report made public today by Dr. R. H. Creel of the United States Public Health Service. Only 244 rodents were plague-infected, it was said. Of the total number trapped, 202,570 were Norway "wharf" rats. Infected rodents of this species predominated, 216 having been found to be diseased. The last human case of plague was reported on October 4, 1914.

CALIFORNIA SCHOOLS TO LEAD WORLD, SAYS PROF.

Universities Discuss Project for Raising Standard of Education

The advent of the University of California and of Stanford into a plan that California shall lead the world in a system of wider opportunities for advanced education, by the establishment of junior colleges throughout the state, was announced this morning at the general session of the California High School Teachers' Association by Professor A. L. Lange, director of the school of education at the state university. The declaration of strong support to be given to the six year high school, carries with it plans for important legislation and for partial organization of the school system of the state, and was greeted by the several hundred high school teachers present as the most important development of the convention.

With high schools in many parts of the state, equipped to give to students a course equivalent to the first two years of the university and in addition advanced courses in vocational training, thousands of students now not able to round out their general education will be given an opportunity. The cost of a two year college course will be reduced to parents and the university will be relieved of a great part of the work now being done in the extension department.

STATE TO LEAD WORLD.
"We are in a position to lead the world," Dr. Lange declared after telling of the determination of the state's two largest colleges to give every encouragement, "let us do it."

After telling of the junior colleges already in existence and stating that their graduates are better equipped to become third year students at the university than those who have taken two years at Berkeley, Lange said:

"Our American four years' high school course begins too late and ends too early. The six years' course might serve a great purpose if it only diverted thousands from the state university who should never go there and so prevent them from becoming misfits.

As for the public colleges that we have, they are not doing their job. They cannot serve their purpose if they must prepare for the university their primary objects. They are to be educational and not social.

"Universities, we have found, may easily admit junior college students to third year standing without fear concerning their preparation. As a matter of fact the students who came to the university this year from the junior colleges stand several fractions higher in scholastic work than the regular university students.

ROUND OUT EDUCATION.
The junior colleges will make it possible for thousands not able to attend the university to round out a general education, will reduce the cost, will give universities of a great part of their extension work, and will provide finishing vocational courses.

"The University of California will within a few weeks issue a bulletin giving the names of the junior colleges. David Starr Jordan at Stanford has written many articles on the subject. The present spectacle of California and Stanford climbing the golden stairs together is most encouraging."

Lange discussed in detail the plans for establishment of the colleges holding that while the same high school buildings could be used, a certain amount of unity should be established by high school and college. He declared that requirements for teachers should not prevent many high school instructors now teaching from becoming leaders in the new field and expressed the belief that the many ways superior training could be given the student in the smaller junior colleges than could be given in the first two years of the university.

WANTS BIBLE IN SCHOOLS.

A plea that the decision of the attorney general of the State to exclude Bible reading from the schools be repealed on the grounds that the decision is favored by a small minority of Californians, was voiced yesterday afternoon by C. C. McCown of the Pacific Theological Seminary. Dr. McCown said: "The reading of the Bible in a religious exercise or its use as a text-book in the public schools," quoted Professor McCown, "is prohibited by the constitution. It is prohibited by the constitution and laws of this State. Christianity is not a part of the laws of this State or of the United States."
Professor McCown referred to the preamble of the State constitution, in which reference is made to the gratitude of the people to Almighty God for our freedom, and he called attention to the section in the constitution which authorizes the legislature to "encourage the promotion of intellectual, scientific, moral and agricultural improvement."
"The Bible," said the professor, "is not sectarian, partisan nor denominational in the true meaning of those terms, and it is essential to moral improvement. It is a deterring of a place in our schools as the hundred old pages of mythology in the State readers."

WOULD AMEND CODE.
"All over the United States there is a reaction against the extreme secularism that has banished the Bible from no many places. In the past year the State legislature has passed bills providing for Bible reading in the schools. In California I hope to see it means cannot be found for people to get an opinion. It is prohibited by the constitution and laws of this State. Christianity is not a part of the laws of this State or of the United States."
Professor McCown referred to the preamble of the State constitution, in which reference is made to the gratitude of the people to Almighty God for our freedom, and he called attention to the section in the constitution which authorizes the legislature to "encourage the promotion of intellectual, scientific, moral and agricultural improvement."
"The Bible," said the professor, "is not sectarian, partisan nor denominational in the true meaning of those terms, and it is essential to moral improvement. It is a deterring of a place in our schools as the hundred old pages of mythology in the State readers."

WOULD PROTECT CLASSICS.
The classics are in dire need of protection from the inroads of vocational courses according to Noel H. Garrison, principal of Stockton high school, who deplored the separation of the vocational from cultural schools. Garrison and A. M. Clifton of the University of California, spoke before the Classical Association of Northern California and the section on classics of the convention of the new methods employed by teachers to instruct pupils in Latin and Greek. A definite campaign is now being waged to arouse enthusiasm among grammar school children showing the vocational value of a knowledge of the dead languages are being shown, and arguments of this kind are being used to prove that students of the classics become commercially more efficient than those who lack that training.

AXON ATTACKS ROUTINE.
Professor Stockton Axon, of the summer session, held a brief against routine methods of instruction in an address before the English section yesterday afternoon. He said:
"The personalities of John and Sueton in the classroom are a means to the same," said Professor Axon, "and to think of teaching them according to type is altogether wrong types may be said to be things which exist everywhere but are seldom seen."
The teacher must show personality in expounding his subject. The synthetic method of presenting your subject which makes a student think of Caesar as a genius rather than as a nuisance. The teacher must capture the student's imagination. Dr. Axon condemned the system of teaching where in the student is told to learn this or suffer and also the professorial method of telling a student he has read a certain book, simply because that book is the professor's own favorite. Sympathy, enthusiasm and interest are necessary components of the successful teacher's makeup, he said, and are the bedrock of personality.

COMPOSITION AND TEARS.
The too frequent use of the blue pencil and consequent discouragement of originality in youthful composition was deplored by Mrs. Florence M. Humphreys, formerly of Palo Alto high school, who said:
"I have found," she said, "that the student will look upon composition as a pleasure if the teacher returns its composition unmarked and lets the student voluntarily volunteer some of his own ideas. Conversation is much more productive of good than the soon-forgotten markings."

LIBERTY BELL GIVEN Reception in Omaha

By Associated Press.
OMAHA, Neb., July 9.—The Liberty bell arrived in Omaha at 5 a. m. this morning and was on exhibition until 11 a. m. The arrival of the bell and part of Philadelphia was honored by sounds of sirens and whistles. An estimate was made that 13,000 persons saw the bell before 8:30 a. m. When the Liberty bell left Omaha on its way to San Francisco, forty-eight Omaha girls, representing the states of the Union sang "America."

DEVIL TO MOVE.
VALLEJO, July 9.—State Railroad Commissioner and Mrs. F. R. Devlin and family will move to San Francisco during the next two weeks. They will make their home for several years at least. The Devlin home in Vallejo is to be occupied by Dr. and Mrs. Fred T. Bond.

COUNCIL DEBATES WORK ON STREET

Protest Against Improvement Brings Forth Many Rejoinders.

The city council spent almost an hour yesterday in a controversy as to whether contracts should be let to Hutchinson & Co. for the improvement of Alameda street.

The street in question runs through unimproved land of the Bruggers Company, which concern owns over 70 per cent of the street frontage. F. P. McLennan, president of the company, protested against letting the contract, stating that it was absolutely unprofitable.

Commissioner of Streets Baccus explained that it was entirely in the hands of the council whether to approve the contract or to accept it and refuse to let the contract. Despite the fact that the street frontage, the reason for this is that the property owners failed to enter their protest at the proper legal time, and the hearing given this morning was merely by courtesy.

Commissioner W. H. Edwards suggested that instead of putting in permanent improvements, provision should be made to lay rocks down the center of the street for a width of about twelve feet to make a turnpike road. The matter was continued until noon, but a compromise could not be reached on this basis.

MANNER OF PROTEST.

McLennan presented his protest as follows:
"While notices were apparently put out that this improvement was to be made, the matter did not come to notice of the property owners concerned until the procedure had arrived at the point of awarding contracts. I investigated to find out who had made the improvement, since we, the owners, were not interested. I found that it had been signed by a number of residents of Melrose, not one of whom had interest in the street away from the proposed improvement. Not one person on the street has signed the petition. I was told that it was desired to make an opening from Alameda street through to Alameda by way of the Fairview bridge. As a matter of fact, Fairview street, in Alameda, with which this work connected, is impassable during the winter. I think that such an improvement should be a benefit to those who have to spend the money and not merely to those who stand off at a distance and so 'go to it, you have to foot the bill.'"

This could be a genuine improvement, and one that is necessary to this district," declared G. Jensen, president of the Melrose Business Men's Association. "It would be a short cut to Alameda. We are going to ask the Railroad Commission to grant us rights of way across the railroad tracks and we plan to open up this district."

COMPANY OBJECTS.

It is merely by courtesy that this hearing is being granted," said E. Baccus, representing the Bruggers Company. "The property owners had plenty of time to make their protest when the work was ordered and not to wait until the contract was let. I circulated a petition in Melrose for this improvement. The law has been lived up to from A to Z. "Now, I want to tell gentlemen of the council that if you are going to permit owners to come in a long time after the proper time and succeed in holding up the contract, you are setting a bad precedent and one that will give you a lot of trouble in the future."

"Leave that to us," interposed Mayor Davis.
Commissioner Edwards suggested that the improvement be changed to that of a turnpike road.
"Everyone else will want the same thing, if we take that course," said Baccus. "It would make street improvement cheap for a people who are not interested and would place the burden of keeping up a lot of these streets upon the rest of the citizens."

The city council adopted a resolution sustaining the action of Chief of Police Baccus in refusing to restore a jitney bus stop on Alameda street. Woodard reported that Anderson was a reckless driver and that he had given the traffic officers a great deal of trouble by refusing to obey signals.

Permission was granted to the West Oakland Athletic Club to hold a sparring contest at their headquarters on July 14. A formal petition signed by Major Henry E. Curzon from the Tin Tin Post No. 86 of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, for the use of Memorial hall on Thursday evenings, was referred to Mayor Davis. The petition stated that the Grand Army of the Republic was satisfied with this arrangement.

The council granted to Max Aronson permission to open a second-hand clothing store at 248 Sixth street.

REPORT ON GARBAGE.

Commissioner Baccus filed the following report:
July 9, 1915. To the City Council, Gentlemen: On July 3 you referred to me a communication from Mr. S. M. Augustine of Bolinas directed to Mayor Davis complaining about Oakland garbage being found on the Bolinas beach. The garbage ship is accompanied on each trip by an inspector who reports that the State law has been complied with and the garbage dumped 20 miles from shore.

Dr. S. S. Southworth, who resides in Bolinas and who has instrumental in having the present law passed by the legislature, is watching the beach and has agreed to notify us if any garbage is seen there. The first word has been received from Dr. Southworth for the past six months, and he has communicated with by telephone this morning. He stated that this is the first complaint he has heard of, and has agreed to investigate the matter today and communicate with me by letter immediately.

"It is possible that garbage, dumped from coasting vessels has drifted on the beach, and no doubt among this would be found milk cans from Oakland dairies, as was reported by Mr. Augustine."

Dr. Southworth, as well as the health officials of San Francisco, are of the opinion that when the garbage is dumped 20 miles from shore, none will drift on the beaches of San Francisco or the beaches to the northward, because of the fact that the off-shore currents have a general direction southward and parallel to the coast line. Respectfully,

"W. J. BACCUS,"

STREET WORK PASSED.

The council passed the following routine street matters on the recommendation of Commissioner of Streets W. J. Baccus:

Directing the city engineer to prepare proceedings for the improvement of Deering street from Thirty-fifth avenue to Humboldt street.

Accepting offer of land for street purposes owned by the City of Oakland, Heights Oakland, Alameda Co., Cal., and directing the city clerk to endorse approval on said map.

Recommending passage of ordinance changing and establishing the width of sidewalk on the southern side of East Twenty-third street, between Fourteenth avenue and Fifteenth avenue.

Awarding contract to Hutchinson Co. for the improvement of portions of Twenty-third avenue.

Auto Racer Carlson Is Buried in South

By Associated Press.
LOS ANGELES, July 9.—Funeral services were held here today for William H. Carlson, son of a former mayor of San Diego who died from injuries incurred while driving a car in the Tacoma motor race, July 4. Carlson's young widow and his mother were attended at the services by a large number of friends, including motorists and racing men, a delegation of whom bore his body to the grave.

STEPS FOR BATHERS.

ALAMEDA, July 9.—Plans are now being made by the street department to have steps installed at the south end of Oak street. These steps will make it convenient for bathers to reach the water. Further plans are to be made at the south end of Laurel street.

Women Utter Peace Message to Women

A peace message voiced by women of the world, and protesting in humanity's name, was the highlight of the Women's Peace Congress in San Francisco, with Miss Marie Ruth Holer, were the speakers scheduled for the afternoon session of peace and war.

The affair was under the auspices of the League of Women Voters, and was held in the Hotel Oakland. A large number of official hostesses, including prominent members of the Oakland Center and other women's organizations, was in attendance at the afternoon session of peace and war.

Murderer Sentenced to Twenty-five Years

VISALIA, July 9.—Twenty-five years in San Quentin prison was the sentence imposed on Martin Vane, confessed murderer of Felix Jesus near the General winter in June 13. Vane entered a plea of guilty to murder in the second degree before Judge Wallace in the superior court at Visalia. He was sentenced to the penitentiary by Bob Pool.

POWDER FACTORY BLOWN UP

By Associated Press.

LONDON, July 9, 2:42 p. m.—Cartis big powder mills at Hounslow, Middlesex, were virtually destroyed today by a series of explosions, which occurred shortly after a hundred men had commenced work.

The explosion was heard for a distance of ten miles. It was stated at the powder mills that only one person had been killed, but that a great many others had been injured by the flying debris.

A preliminary explosion of small violence gave a warning which enabled most of the workers to flee the building.

AUSTRIANS ARE AMBUSHED

By Associated Press.

LONDON, July 9, 3:42 p. m.—A Petrograd dispatch to the Daily Mail says: "The Austrian army under Archduke Joseph Ferdinand has been pushed forward Monday on the high road from Kramnik to Lubin, under the impression that the Russians were in full retreat, lost touch with Field Marshal von Mecklenburg's army on the right. The Russians, who were aware that the archduke supposed, took advantage of his blunder in allowing the flank of his force to be uncovered.

"The aim of the Austrian force was to break through the Russian front, and success seemed almost within its grasp. It did not know that a wood beside the road along which it was advancing was full of Russians. The archduke was vigorously attacked with disconcerting unexpectedness, and lost no fewer than 1,000 men."

"This set-back delayed the advance of the Austro-German forces for three days and it soon will be seen whether they will be able to pull themselves together. It looks, however, as though plans for the execution of the armies of the archduke and Field Marshal von Mecklenburg at Lublin has gone awry."

RUSSIA SUFFERS IN SEA-WAR

By Associated Press.

LONDON, July 9, 4:42 p. m.—The Russian bark Marion Lightbody was sunk off Queenstown today by a German submarine. The crew was saved. The bark, which was of 215 tons gross, left Valparaiso March 23 for an English port.

SECOND STEAMER TORPEDOED.

By Associated Press.

LONDON, July 9, 4:45 p. m.—The Villanelle, a line steamer, was sunk off the coast of Scotland yesterday by a German submarine. The crew of the Guido was saved.

RUSSIAN SHIP SHELLED.

By Associated Press.

LONDON, July 9, 6:15 p. m.—The Russian steamer Anna, from Archangel, Russia, for Hull, was shelled by a German submarine in the North Sea. The crew abandoned the ship and landed at Peterhead, Scotland, today. The Anna is reported to be still afloat.

RUSSIA MAY STRIKE TEUTONS

By Associated Press.

PETROGRAD, July 9, 11:40 a. m., via London, 2:35 p. m.—In spite of the military distractions along the northern and western fronts, which include a stiff activity between Suwalki and the Kolyma river and the fight at Warsaw from the west, the main efforts of the forces arrayed against Russia are still concentrated between the river Vistula and the river Bug and are aimed at Lublin.

In this region, however, the Russians, according to latest reports, have temporarily stopped the Austro-German advance and they are even beginning a new offensive movement of their own between the Vistula and the Vepz river, striking south from Lublin against the German positions near Curzenoff, Buchava and Kramnik. The front marked by these points is, broadly speaking, about twenty miles to the south of Lublin and Kholm, and about thirty miles to the northeast of Sandomir.

German forces have been resting now for several days at these points and the movement on their part, which for nearly two months has been making steady progress, has come to a standstill.

This condition, taken in conjunction with the new Russian offensive activity, explains the confident belief among Russian observers that a turning point at last has been reached and that the psychological moment to prevent a further German invasion now has presented itself.

BOER ARMY FOR FLANDERS?

LONDON, July 9, 12:10 p. m.—The surrender of the entire German force in German Southwest Africa closes one of the most important campaigns of the great war and releases for service elsewhere the South African contingent.

Graphically Describes Gully Ravine Battle in Gallipoli Section

By Associated Press.

LONDON, July 9.—The British press representative in a graphic description of the battle of Gully Ravine on June 28, which placed the allied line diagonally across the top of the hill, emphasized the importance of the battle to the allies' left wing, emphasizing above all the great moral effect on the British forces, who, he says, "now feel that they have at length got the whip-hand of the Turks."

They repeatedly failed previously on attacks on the positions now won, and their present success is mainly due to a change of tactics and improvement in support afforded by the artillery, and to the splendid co-operation between the military and naval forces.

"Our left wing has been constantly held up by the strength of the Turkish positions," the account says, "but on June 24 the French, by a gallant and successful advance, straightened out the line on the right, and now our left wing has followed, opening up the highest prospects for the future, if only our gunners are kept supplied with unlimited rounds of ammunition."

"As an illustration of the exhaustive nature of the previous fighting, the correspondent says that on June 29 the division upon whom the brunt of this battle fell had some battalions without a single officer who originally landed in the Dardanelles."

"On the 25th the British infantry forces were greatly assisted by the loan of some French trench mortars, which, dropping bombs containing 30 to 70 pounds of melinite vertically into the enemy's trenches, were used with deadly effect."

"The great difficulty out here has been to hold captured positions against fierce counterattacks during the night," the correspondent declares. "The ground is so broken and provides so much natural cover that the enemy, having advantage of minute knowledge of its configuration, is able to creep up under cover and make a surprise attack with the aid of hand grenades. On the night of the 28th, these tactics were attempted, but failed, and the enemy, who seemed exhausted, engaged in no fighting on the 29th. Thus our attempts on the 30th to recapture these positions were fruitless, and since then they have shown no disposition to renew the fighting."

MOTOR BOATS TO DRIVE SUBMARINES OFF SEAS?

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, July 9.—The G. C. Smith Boat and Engine Company announced today that representatives of the British, French and Russian governments have asked that company to submit estimates for the construction of upward of 150 powerful motor speed boats for war purposes. The craft are required to be strong enough to carry two or more light guns and are to be used, it is understood, in seeking out and attacking German submarines in the waters about England and France and in the Baltic Sea.

The plans call for boats thirty feet long, equipped with 500-horsepower engines and capable of a speed of 50 miles an hour. As the factory of the Smith company is in Canada, near Detroit, no violation of American neutrality is feared.

its successful conclusion probably means that although German East Africa remains unconquered, a contingent will be dispatched to France, while additional forces will continue the campaign in East Africa.

It generally is believed here that German Southwest Africa will become a part of the South African Union. Special dispatches from Petrograd report that the Russian position in Southern Russian Poland now is very hopeful and that the possibility of the Austro-Germans carrying Warsaw by sudden onslaught is being discounted. It is explained by Russian commentators that the Austro-German forces now are operating in a country where the problems of transport and commissariat are infinitely more complex than they were in the Galician operations.

AUSTRIANS HURLED BACK.
The Austrian reverse is explained by London military experts as due to the order of Archduke Ferdinand's army, which in the rush on the Kramnik-Lublin line, got so far ahead of Field Marshal von Mackensen's forces that a junction was impossible. Vienna admits that the Austrians have been compelled to retreat from the Lublin region.

The only success claimed by the central powers along the eastern front is in Southern Poland east of the Vistula river, where the Russians presumably still are withdrawing toward new lines around Warsaw.

Reports continue to reach here by way of Holland that the Germans are sending heavy reinforcements to the western front. The only news of the operations in that zone, however, is contained in the brief Paris report, which relates that a German assault directed against trenches which the British had captured on Tuesday southwest of Pilken was broken with heavy losses under the fire of British artillery and French machine guns, and which admits that a German attack won some ground in front of Souchez.

Official War Statements

RUSSIAN

PETROGRAD, via London, July 9.—The following official communication has been issued:
"During the night of July 6 the enemy unsuccessfully attacked our positions near Muraviev station. To the west of the Kalwaria-Suwalki road the enemy, on July 6, succeeded in crossing the River Vistulienka, but was thrown back on the 7th."

"On the Orlitz river the enemy, during the night of the 6th, attacked our trench position of today village of Jedynowice. A few more Germans held their ground in front of our trenches until dawn, but were almost all killed by our fire when they tried to retire. During the day the enemy again attacked the same trenches, but everywhere were repulsed with heavy losses."

"On the left bank of the Vistula, during the night of the 6th, the enemy under cover of enormous clouds of poisonous gases, delivered attacks in the direction of Bolkow. On a front of about eight miles he succeeded, in some sectors, in capturing our first line trenches, but by counter attacks next day we dislodged him and recovered the position except in the sector near the Bolkow road, where the fight still continues. "Between the small town of Senno and the village of Josefow the enemy, on the 7th, delivered an attack. At the same time the enemy in the direction of Lublin continued successfully to develop the offensive which we had begun in the sector of Urzadz and Bystrozitza. Our men dealt the enemy terrible blows and between the 6th and 7th took about 11,000 prisoners, while they captured several dozen machine guns and a flag. In this sector the enemy is in retreat and we are pursuing him."

"There is no change along the Buz. Zlota Lipsa and Dnieper rivers."

FRENCH

By Associated Press.

PARIS, July 9, 2:35 p. m.—The "French war office statement" today said:
"From the sea to the river Aisne there was a spirited artillery engagement in the vicinity of Souchez last night. There was also a continued bombardment of Arras and a violent cannonade on the plateau of Nouvron. In the Champagne district there was an encounter with mines and in the Argonne there were rifle and cannon exchanges, but no important infantry engagements."

"Between the Meuse and the Moselle there was considerable activity. Between Fey-en-Haye and the forest of Le Prieux, French troops with hand grenades took about 150 yards of the trenches lost by us July 4. At Croix-des-Carmes the enemy delivered an attack yesterday evening along a front of 350 yards, after burning buildings and bombarding with aeroplanes. After having gained a footing in our first line of defenses the Germans were driven out by an immediate counter attack. They are now holding only a few of our most advanced trenches."

"In the Vosges:
"In the region of Ban-de-Sapt, at Fontenelle, we gained a notable advantage after having driven the enemy from that portion of our old positions, which they captured from us on the 22d of June, we took possession of all the German defensive positions from the hill to the southeast of Fontenelle as far as the road running from Launois to Moyen-Moutier. This total gain represents an advance of 700 yards along a front of 600 yards. We took nineteen officers, including one battalion commander, two doctors and 767 men, all unwounded and belonging to seven different battalions. Our ambulances picked up one officer and three wounded German soldiers. We captured also one cannon of 37 millimetres calibre, two machine guns, several bomb throwers and much ammunition."

"Since dawnbreak the enemy has been cannonading violently the positions lost by them."

ITALIAN

ROME, July 9.—An official communication issued by the war office today follows:

"No important change has occurred in the last twenty-four hours. Action on the various fronts is developing regularly."

GERMANS TO CONTROL Belgian Food Supply

By Associated Press.

BERLIN, via London, July 9.—A dispatch from Brussels says that General von Bissing, governor of Belgium, has issued a decree providing for the appropriation of the grain crop to feed civilians. The decree, it is said, aims at preventing a speculation advance in prices.

BELGIANS DISPLAY LOYALTY.

By Associated Press.

BRUSSELS, via London, July 9.—The Belgians have suddenly adopted the practice of wearing sprays of ivy as an expression of loyalty to Belgium and the allies as a result of General von Bissing's order prohibiting the display of Belgian colors.

GRAND DUKE ACHIEVES WAR PLAN, IS REPORT

By Associated Press.

LONDON, July 9.—The German positions on the eastern front now exactly suit the Russian strategists, according to the Post's Petrograd correspondent.
"Grand Duke Nicholas has got the enemy into the same position strategically as he occupied last August," says the correspondent. "But with this difference—then the enemy had all the advantage of position, while today it is the enemy is in a desert ravaged by eleven months of warfare."

"The task of feeding and munitioning 3,000,000 men 200 miles from their base must appall the Germans, yet a pause or backward step spells ruin. Matters look promising for the Russians."

Swedish Cargo Is Seized by Britain

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, July 9.—Officers of the Swedish steamer Zambesi, which arrived here yesterday, said that they had not been permitted to deliver the vessel's cargo of grain and sugar at Stockholm, the steamer's destination, but that the steamer had been taken into Kirkwall by a British cruiser, held there ten days, and then sent to Harrow-in-Furness, where the entire cargo had been discharged.

"Up to the present we have not succeeded in clearing the enemy from the trench sector, which we lost the day before yesterday west of Souchez. "The reports circulated by the French army administration regarding the capture of German cannon is incorrect. "East of Alilly unsuccessful isolated attacks took place. We captured by storm several French lines of trenches extending over a width of 350 yards and forcing our newly completed positions in the forest of Le Preire to the East, taking 250 prisoners and four machine guns. Otherwise only unimportant patrol engagements took place between Aubly and the Moselle."

"After artillery preparation the enemy attacked Hill near Ban-de-Sapt, which we captured on June 22 by storm. We were forced to evacuate the destroyed trenches on top of the hill. "In the eastern and southeastern theater of war the situation remains unchanged."

Steamer Muskogee Is Again Under Detention

By Associated Press.

LONDON, July 9, 3:40 p. m. (Delayed by London).—The steamer Muskogee, from New Orleans to Gothenburg, Sweden, has been detained and taken to Kirkwall for examination. "The tank steamer Pioneer and Polar have been released."

The Muskogee sailed from New Orleans June 7. This is her second detention by the British authorities. She was held up at Kirkwall from April 7 to April 14 when on her way to Copenhagen with a cargo of oil, and then released. "The Pioneer, now under the American flag, formerly was the German steamship known. She was taken into Kirkwall June 21 for examination. "The Polarine, an American vessel, sailed from New York May 27, for Copenhagen. She was reported to have arrived at Kirkwall June 7."

Kitchener Pleads for More Recruits

By Associated Press.

LONDON, July 9.—Great crowds assembled in and around Guild Hall and the routes leading to it this afternoon to hear Field Marshal Earl Kitchener address a meeting to inaugurate a special recruiting campaign.

Field Kitchener's subject was "On the Need of Further Recruiting for the Army," but the enthusiasm of the meeting and the crowds which appeared were attributed to the public's spontaneous desire to demonstrate its confidence in the Field Marshal in the face of the attacks which a certain section of the press has been making. "We require more men and still more men," said Earl Kitchener, sounding the keynote of his address, "but the situation in this respect is immeasurably better now than it was ten months ago. The military position today, however, is as serious as it was then."

ADVOCATES BIGGER ARMY AND NAVY

Increase of Military Forces and Coast Defenses Urged by Col. P. F. Harmon.

A regular army of at least 1,000,000 men, with a militia of as many more in the various states, as well as a bigger navy and more coast defenses are advocated by Colonel P. F. Harmon, U. S. A., retired, who is at the Hotel Oakland with Mrs. Harvey. Colonel and Mrs. Harvey are here from their home in Washington, D. C., for a several weeks' stay.

Colonel Harvey is a veteran of four wars, and was in the United States Army for forty years. He holds that our navy is wholly inadequate to protect our coasts, that the army is so small as to be absurd, and that the remoteness of the country will not be a protection from invasion. He is emphatic in his statement that we are in no position to go to war with any first class power.

COUNTRY IN SERIOUS WAY. "There can be no denial that this country is in a serious position in case of war with a first class power, no power we are positively not able to defend ourselves from the encroachments of any strong nation."

"For a long time there has been a pernicious theory among us that our very remoteness was a safeguard against invasion. This is not true now and never was true at any time. Consider the position of Japan. There can be no doubt that the Japanese have for a long time cast envious glances at this country and particularly at the rich strip along the western coast. This is denied in Japan, of course, but all students of affairs know that the little Oriental country quite forgot us for our invasion of the Philippines by taking possession of the Philippines."

TIME TO PREPARE. "When these facts are considered and admitted it seems to me that it is time for us to make preparations to forestall any ambitious ideas that Japan or any other country might have, either now or in the future."

Our standing army consists, roughly, of 100,000 men. There are probably as many more in the militia. We have had one week's training out of the year to prepare them for service. This obviously does not make them soldiers. We need at least a million men in the country of a hundred millions to defend us from possible attack.

Various means have been discussed for bringing about this military strength. It seems to me that something along the lines of the present militia would serve the turn. However, in a case of that kind it would be necessary to give them a great deal more training than the militia now receives.

SEVEN MILLION PAID IN PRINTERS' SALARIES

SACRAMENTO, July 9.—One of the largest industries in the state, paying more than $7,000,000 annually in salaries, is that of printing and publishing, with its allied trades of electrotyping and photo-engraving, according to the report of John P. McLaughlin, Commissioner of the Bureau of Labor Statistics.

In 195 establishments in California, which includes only the larger daily papers, magazines and publications, 419 men are in steady employment. Their exact annual wage, according to the report, is $6,471,322.

As compared with other similar trades, the weekly wage is higher.

There are 3530 males and 793 females engaged in the business.

TO AID IN SYSTEM OF UNIFORM ACCOUNTS

SACRAMENTO, July 9.—In contemplation of extending within the current year a uniform system of accounting in every county in the state, the State Board of Control announced yesterday that early in August it would appoint ten extra expert accountants for its auditing department.

So far Los Angeles is the only county in the state where any effort has been made to establish a uniform system.

San Francisco probably will be the next to be systematized by the board.

Commoner's Face on Cover, But He Fails to Speak at Meeting.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 9.—The front cover of "The Fatherland" for June 25 is a picture of William Jennings Bryan.

"The Fatherland" was distributed at a meeting of the American Independence Union last night in Dreamland Park, during which a resolution against the allies was adopted. The picture of William Jennings Bryan was torn off each copy given out.

Chairman J. A. Miller told the meeting that Bryan at the last minute had refused to address the gathering and "Peace" after having accepted the invitation.

"Doubtless Mr. Bryan's dove of peace turned into a hummingbird after he got here," said the chairman, "some Anglo-American must have pulled him down."

"Help us out of the hole Mr. Bryan has put us in by contributing toward the expenses."

Baskets were passed. One hundred of the 1500 persons left the hall.

The chairman announced that future meetings would be held in the German house.

A resolution declaring the sovereign rights of the people, voicing a determined request for a special session of Congress if necessary to declare an embargo on arms, and stating that England has driven our commerce from the seas, was introduced and adopted.

During the meeting Dr. Otto Jatho of the First Lutheran church of Oakland spoke in German. Miss Hester E. Hoffer of Cleveland, Ohio, delivered a talk on peace.

TANK CONTRACT LET.

MARTINEZ, July 9.—Contract was awarded yesterday by the Shell company to the Lacey Manufacturing company for six 15,000 barrel steel tanks to contain refined products at the local refinery.

At the same time the company contracted with the Lacey Iron works of Los Angeles for 25 55,000-barrel tanks to comprise a part of the big tank farm.

HEALTH OFFICER GETS SAME PAY

Fight of Woman at San Diego Is Quickly and Decisively Won.

SAN DIEGO, July 9.—One woman on the health board won her fight of almost two months' standing when a majority of the council sustained Mayor Capps' veto of the ordinance increasing the salary of Health Officer Dr. Banks to $175 a month.

She is Mrs. T. C. Pounds, who said she had a reduction to $125, for which she said Dr. A. L. Derbyshire was willing to work. Mayor Capps based his veto, he said, on the same ground.

Dr. L. M. Albee, president of the health board, John Fleming and Dr. Parsons Allen, other members, pleaded with the council to maintain a salary of $175, which they said would insure efficiency.

Dr. May represented that Dr. Banks practically would give all his time to the duties of the office.

Mrs. Pounds presented the council with figures from the board showing that the health board has only $10,000 for the next six months' maintenance. She said Leides being allowed $175 a month, Dr. Derbyshire would have to give up his automobile hire.

When Mayor Capps remarked that he would prefer the doctor at the least salary the question of how much a physician's services are worth was raised.

Dr. Fly remarked that the city could not afford to take a cheap doctor.

The vote on sustaining the veto was three to two. The motion to pass the ordinance over the veto was made by Councilman Benbow and seconded by Moore, Schmidt, Manney and Pay voted against the motion. Dr. Banks was not ready to make a statement today. It is understood that he would not retain the office for $125 a month.

FOREIGN TOURISTS ARE DIVERTED TO CALIFORNIA

"California is a gainer through the war. Of the $8 to 120 million dollars spent by American tourists in Europe during the four months of the summer holidays more than half of that sum will be diverted to California," declared Frank R. Robertson, famous travelogueur, now lecturing in Oakland. He was talking before the members of the Rotary Club at their luncheon yesterday on "The World Conditions of Today."

Robertson said he had studied tourist conditions all the way from New York to the Pacific Coast during his tour, and indications were there would be a tremendous amount of travel coming this way, much of which in normal years went to Europe.

Robertson surprised the Rotarians with the rapidity with which he quoted strings of big statistics showing the relative financial positions of the different powers and the cost of the war. He spoke of the remarkable growth of the United States. Fifty years ago the national wealth amounted to seven billion dollars; at present it was 146 billions. He also compared other phases showing the growth of national wealth and power.

The war, he said, is costing $55,000,000 a day. One week's war expenditure would pay for the building of the Panama canal, which took eleven years.

"The people of the United States should be neutral as far as they can in this war," continued Robertson. "People born in Germany, or England, or in other countries involved, naturally have a leaning toward that country, but they should be as neutral as possible. Private manufacturers are shipping back munitions of war to Europe. That isn't neutrality. We should deprecate such a practice."

FIND WAY AROUND CIVIL SERVICE RULE

SACRAMENTO, July 9.—An ordinance changing the position of clerk to the chief of police, to "personal secretary" to the chief, was presented to the city commission by Commissioner Simmons. This ordinance will take the position from the rules of civil service and permit the chief of police to select the man for the place. Chief Conran will name Lloyd S. Smith.

Another ordinance was introduced by Simmons creating the position of personal secretary to the chief of the fire department. Denny Kelleher will be named to this position.

A resolution repealing the ordinance providing for the office of corporation yard manager at a salary of $110 per month was introduced by Commissioner Carragher, who said that the corporation yard force must be reduced to save money. John McDonald holds the position which will be eliminated.

In explaining the change in regard to the clerk to the chief of police, Dr. Simmons said that under the present ordinance he would be compelled to return to the civil service list in selecting a clerk and that three women are on the list. The position, he said, is one which only a man can fill, and he felt that it would be necessary to have a man in the place who could have confidential relations with the chief, such as could not exist if the appointee of former Commissioner Bliss were retained.

Henry Wolf held the position under Commissioner Charles A. Bliss and was named from a civil service list of stenographers.

PASSPORT INQUIRIES AS TO CANADA ARE MADE

By Associated Press. WASHINGTON, July 9.—Despite recent assurances of the State Department that American travelers going into Canada this summer would need no passports unless they have names that indicated German, Austria-Hungarian or Turkish origin, many inquiries on the subject are being made by the department. The inquiries include many who intend to go to the California expositions over Canadian routes.

Passports are not required by Canadian authorities for Americans entering Canada, although naturalized Americans, especially those born in countries now at war with Great Britain, are advised to get passports to facilitate inquiry.

ELECTION CASES QUASHED.

MARTINEZ, July 9.—Grand jury indictment against Henry J. Williams, W. F. Patton, James Kennedy and Richard Williams, charged with attempts to intimidate electors in the recent Republican election, was quashed yesterday by Superior Judge R. H. Laumer and the defendants discharged.

THE CLERK GUARANTEED IT.

"A customer came into my store the other day and said to one of my clerks, 'Give me anything that will cure diarrhoea' and my clerk went and got him a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and said to him, 'If you are cured, you will not charge you a cent for it.' So he took it home and came back in a day or two and said he was cured. I gave him a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. A good drug store.—Advertisement."

DOGS GIVEN PASSPORTS OVER RIVER JORDAN

MARTINEZ, July 9.—Into the beautiful realm where herding is never allowed, and where wolves are as scarce as hen's teeth, went one hundred and fifty-one canines during the past year. Such is the all important contained in the report of Poundmaster W. E. Reesner filed with the board.

One hundred and fifty-one dogs of various breeds were given the official passport and none will they cross the Jordan.

COAL FOR VESSELS AT CANAL RAISED IN PRICE

By Associated Press. WASHINGTON, July 9.—The price of coal for vessels at the Panama Canal will be increased on September 1, according to notice issued by the canal authorities. After that date coal delivered alongside a vessel at Cristobal or Colon will be $6 per ton, and at Balboa on the Pacific side $7 per ton.

Note vessels used for coal in May. The number being 101, though the tonnage, which was 274,708, was less than in March. Vessels handled since the canal opened in 1914 had a 4,000-ton mark in May.

JULY CLEARANCE SALE OF REAL ESTATE. "Department Stores have Clearance Sales. What's the matter with a real estate firm having the same thing," said one of our clients the other day, who, by the way, runs a shoe store in Napa. The idea appealed to us. We are going to have a Clearance Sale of Real Estate—the first Sale of its kind we ever heard of—and best of all We will accept Realty Syndicate 6% Bonds at PAR for any lot advertised— Here's the first list. There will be another list tomorrow. Now is your chance to get a bargain.

WHO WANTS THIS LOT?—50 feet of frontage on Adeline Street; close to school; walking distance from Key Route; will accept Realty Syndicate Bonds, at par, for this (1024). A bargain for $1125.

A BEAUTIFUL SCENIC LOT—Overlooking some of the prettiest property in Oakland: 70 feet frontage; 82 feet in the rear, and over 100 feet deep; sloping gently away from the street; street improvements all in; surrounded by beautiful homes. Price $2500; $2150 worth of Realty Syndicate Bonds at par will be accepted for this lot and balance of $350 cash can be paid off to suit the buyer. (1001).

A FORTY-FOOT LOT—On north side of well paved street; close to Southern Pacific and Key Route transportation; will accept Realty Syndicate Bonds, at par, for this property (1013). Price $1000.

A CORNER LOT IN SOUTH BERKELEY—Northeast corner; 40x100; street work all in; 1 block from Key Route station; close to street cars; property in neighborhood held at $10 a foot; will accept Realty Syndicate Bonds up to $800; balance of $400 in cash or terms (1025). Price $1200.

A LOT IN PIEDMONT—52x100; fine view; southern exposure; one half block from car line; in most beautiful residence park in the Piedmont district; Realty Syndicate Bonds will be taken at par for $1500; balance of $500 in cash or on terms (1020). Price $2000.

A FINE LOT CONTAINING ONE ACRE—You have often thought you would like to own an acre of land. We have such a plot, close to S. P. Electric Railway. We can accept Realty Syndicate Bonds for a part of this, at par. The balance can be paid off in small monthly installments (1018). Price $2000.

A GOOD INVESTMENT—We have 147 feet frontage, 150 feet deep, on one of the scenic streets of Oakland; unexcelled view; that we can sell for $8000. Close to car lines; within one block of a fine playground; street work complete; Realty Syndicate Bonds, at par, can be accepted for $5250 and the balance of $2750 can be paid off in cash or monthly installments. We will subdivide this, if necessary (1005).

A SPUR TRACK WAREHOUSE SITE—Close to center of town, therefore short haul; on spur track of Key Route, thus affording practically Belt Line service. Can be subdivided, if necessary. Realty Syndicate Bonds will be accepted for this at par (1009). Price $6250.

A DANDY PIEDMONT CORNER—One block from Grand Avenue cars; in restricted district; street work done; surrounded by fine homes; north and east frontage; adjoining property held at from $10 to $20 a foot higher; this fine lot can be had for $1800 in Realty Syndicate Bonds and $450 in cash or on terms (1041). Price $2250.

BEAUTIFUL BUNGALOW LOT—Block from Piedmont car line; short walk to Piedmont Key Route station; all street work done; fine level lot surrounded by new and picturesque bungalows. A bargain for (1007). Price $1400.

NEW ORDINANCES NOT PRESENTED

Fail to Materialize for Final Passage at Council Meeting.

Although it was anticipated that the new ordinances which were introduced on the first two days of the new administration's control of city affairs would be presented today for final passage, none of these ordinances was taken up. The official printing had been carried through and the ordinances were due for a final passing, but failed to materialize at the council meeting today.

It was announced that several of the ordinances were being held up as Commissioners F. F. Jackson and W. H. Edwards and Mayor Davis desired to hold a conference over them.

The matter of taking from the city attorney the privilege of naming his own assistant will be one of the subjects to be discussed at this conference. An ordinance was introduced and passed to print and is now ready for final passage, an ordinance which gave the city attorney this power. The new ordinance places these appointments not in the hands of the city attorney but in the hands of the city council.

PERSONALLY RESPONSIBLE.
City Attorney Mott is said to have taken the stand that as he is personally responsible for the work of his office, he should be permitted to have the naming of his assistants. This was the view taken three years ago when the matter was under consideration by the old council, by the city council at that time that by placing the appointments in the hands of the city attorney greater efficiency in the attorney's office would probably result as he would be personally responsible for the men chosen by him. It was under this arrangement that the former City Attorney Ben F. Woolner appointed Charles A. Beardsley as his assistant. Beardsley was recognized within a short time after the appointment as one of the cleverest young attorneys in the bay region.

City Attorney Mott made the choice of Mr. Beardsley for his assistant, and stands ready to back Mott in his desire to have the say in appointing his assistant. The ordinance removing this privilege from his office was introduced at the request of Commissioners Jackson and Edwards.

JACKSON ONLY APPOINTEE.
The only appointment made so far in City Attorney Mott's office was that of his assistant, George Jackson, who takes Beardsley's place at a salary of $300 a month.

There are several other ordinances to be considered among them an ordinance changing the title of the secretary or clerk to the Commissioner of Public Health and Safety. The ordinance which is now ready for final passage and which purports to repeal an ordinance creating the office of chief clerk in that department, actually repealed Section 1 of Ordinance 14. It was discovered today by the new commissioners that this ordinance was repealed by the old city council in 1913 by Ordinance 438, and that to change the position it would be necessary to amend this ordinance.

S. P. WILL CONTRIBUTE TO MEXICAN RELIEF

As part of its contribution to the relief of the starving and needy in Mexico, the Southern Pacific Company has announced that it will carry Red Cross supplies into the war-torn republic at the usual rate. That a tremendous amount of food and clothing will be required to alleviate the sufferings of our cousins across the border appears to be without question. Judging from the plans of the National Mexican Relief Committee of the Red Cross, of which William C. Foster, vice-president of the Guaranty Trust Company, New York, is chairman.

President William Sproule of the Southern Pacific Company is assisting in the organization of a California sub-committee for Mexican relief. The Red Cross headquarters in Washington should be notified of offers of contributions of food supplies that shipping instructions may be forwarded. No contributions are too small, for the numbers suffering and who will suffer, particularly because of slow starvation, is very great.

DAVE VISITS S. F. TO FIND ACCOUNTANTS

Mayor John L. Davis went to San Francisco this afternoon to confer with a firm of accountants concerning expediting the books, records and accounts of the City of Oakland in accordance with the provision of the City Charter, which authorizes the Mayor to have the city's books gone over once a year. This has been done in the past by an Oakland firm. The concern is at present engaged in installing an accounting system that will standardize accounting for all departments in the city government.

"I am going to the city this afternoon," said Mayor Davis, "to take up the matter of getting the books of the city expedited. There is no one on this side that I care to have do the work."

Women Following in Auto See Husands in Fatal Accident.

By Associated Press.
SANTA FE, N.M., July 6.—Charles W. Moore was killed and Arthur Andersen was seriously injured near here yesterday, when an automobile in which they were driving from their home in Sacramento to Brocade left the roadway and was wrecked. The wheels of the two men were following in another automobile.

ern Pacific Company, announced yesterday that it will carry Red Cross shipments to Mexico at half rates as part of his contribution to the National Mexican Relief Committee of the Red Cross. President William Spruille was assisting the organization of a relief committee for relief in Mexico.

He went to testify. He asserts that he ordered the work stopped because a printing done by the International Paper Company was satisfactory to him. Judge Sullivan continued the case one week and it is held at the next hearing it will be held in Police Judge's office. He said that a charge in the federal court is accused there of publishing a "rotten drawing in a paper sent through the mails."

NOTED MUSIC MASTERS TO MEET

Six-day Convention in Oakland Replete With Attractions.

Addresses and musical recitals by a half score of the best authorities and musicians of the country will be features of the six-day convention of the Music Teachers' Association of California which will open at the Hotel Oakland next Monday under the auspices of the Alameda County Music Teachers' Association.

The gathering, which will bring together delegates from all parts of the state, will provide one of the greatest festivals of musical music in the history of the state. In addition, papers explaining in technical detail musical matters will be read. In the neighborhood of 400 delegates are expected at the gathering.

Such men as Dr. Horatio W. Parker of Yale University, Professor Charles Louis Seeger Jr. of the University of California, Philip H. Haden, Berkeley, Cal., an authority on public school music; Herman Miller, master violin maker of Berkeley, and Charles Farwell Edison, a Los Angeles music authority, will be speakers.

Ernest R. Kroeger, composer and pianist of St. Paul, Mo., of national reputation as a musician, will be one of those who will give recitals. Others will be Mrs. Lucia Dunham, Arthur Conradi, violinist; Lawrence Strauss, tenor, all of San Francisco; Mrs. Sofia Newland Neustadt of Oakland; Mrs. Novella Hara, Japanese soprano of Tokio University; and Miss Freda G. Percy of Los Angeles. Selections by the Lombardi Wood Wind Quintette, the Fuhrer-Zielinski Trio, a trio of artists from San Diego and prominent vocalists from Sacramento are also in the program.

TO SEE DANCER.

Still another feature of the sessions will be a gathering of the delegates and their friends on the lawn before the Faculty club on the State University campus on Thursday morning and afternoon. Miss Norma Gould, a Los Angeles society girl, will star in a program of "music made visible," in which she interprets in classic dances the music of Dvorak, Macdowell, Herbert, Drigo and Debussy.

A complimentary concert, free to the public, will be given in the civic auditorium on Friday evening. It will be a program of chamber music of Russian composers by the Fuhrer-Zielinski trio of Los Angeles. On Saturday the program will be given in the ballroom of the California building and in Festival hall, at the exposition. Clarence Gaddy will be at the organ of the First Presbyterian church, Oakland, at a recital to be given in honor of the convention delegates.

The convention will open Monday evening with a reception and will continue to be given in the Hotel Oakland ballroom by the members of the Pacific Quarter, who are Rose Nussbaum Leman, Eva Henriette Gruninger, Rowena Robb Mills and Emma Mesow Fitch. Mabel Hill Redfield is the accompanist.

MAJOR TO SPEAK.

The formal opening of the sessions will take place at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning in the hotel ballroom. Alexander Stewart, president of the Alameda County Music Teachers' Association, will deliver an address of welcome on behalf of that body. Mayor John H. Cowell will speak for the municipality; Miss Grace Fisher, president of the Young Women's Christian Association, will speak on behalf of the women's organizations of the community, and Victor H. Metcalf, president of the Oakland Commercial Club, will speak for that body. Henry Bretherick, president of the state association, will give the response.

YOUNTVILLE VETERANS MAY BE OUSTED FROM HOME

NAPA, July 8.—Under orders from directors of the Veterans' Home, where 200 old soldiers are being domiciled, Physicians A. H. McQuinn and L. D. Geas are examining inmates to determine what veterans can be forced from the institution. A list of those under 60 years of age who are physically able to earn a livelihood is being made up and report on the matter will be presented to the directors at their meeting July 17, at the institution.

John W. Connors, a Spanish War veteran, in a written statement, says he is being improperly treated by nurses in the tubercular cottage, and demands an investigation by the directors.

The veterans are greatly incensed over the poor service being given them by U. G. Grummond, who has been postmaster at the home for two months, succeeding Captain Albert Brown. Grummond closes the office at 5 p. m. on week days, and does not open the lobby or corridor in which the boxes are located on Sundays or holidays at all or after 5 p. m. on any week day. The veterans say no postmaster in Napa county enforces such unreasonable and unfair regulations, and have sent a long petition to Washington demanding redress and a new postmaster.

Druggist W. Kramer and Miss Grace Best who figured in a sensational investigation at the home a few months ago, surprised officials and employees of the institution by being married Wednesday. They will live in Yountville. Kramer is well employed at the home.

FARE REDUCTIONS COST SOUTHWEST LINES MUCH

By Associated Press.
CHICAGO, July 8.—What railways of the southwest have sustained in financial losses in the passenger traffic, due to reductions of fares to 2 cents a mile in 1914, was submitted in evidence before the Interstate Commerce Commission yesterday by H. H. Butler, assistant general passenger agent of the Missouri Pacific railway.

Mr. Butler testified on behalf of the forty-six western railroads in their petition for approval of higher passenger fares. His testimony has particular reference to conditions in the southwest.

"Comparing 1917, the last year under 2-cent fares, with 1914, the last year the 2-cent fare," he said, "the Missouri Pacific suffered a decrease in passenger revenue of 2.5 per cent. In the same time this number of passengers increased 21 per cent."

WITNESS TAMPERING CHARGES ARE MADE

CHICAGO, July 8.—Charges that a witness in the Clark stabbing case has been tampered with and that other witnesses have been allowed to depart have been made and are to be investigated by the Butte county grand jury. Clark grabbed a man a week ago and it is charged that a bartender, William Smith, influenced a witness to refrain from testifying against Clark, and that other friends of the prior warned other witnesses and gave them an opportunity to get away.

W. J. BRYAN SPEAKS TO BAPTISTS

FALSE GODS DECEIVED BY SPEAKER

Great Crowd Hears Talk by Former Secretary of State

We are past that time that we can ignore the first commandment. Thou shalt have no other God before Me. I will mention nine gods that we worship today. I wish that I could have them here before you. I would classify them in three and put them on three separate shelves.

"The first of these gods I would put on the highest of the shelves. It is the god we call 'Wealth.' Love of money is the worship of the dollar. To acquire wealth is not altogether bad because man incidentally does some good things in the interest of society in so doing. Society gets the benefit of his industry. But as he worships one dollar, he goes to the next, and worships more and more until he is finally led astray from the worship of the true God.

"The second is the god of fashion. The person who desires prominence in the social world does some good. To seekers of fashion increase social intercourse, but the ones who worship fashion will go astray.

"Next comes the god of Fame. It is not a bad thing for a man to have ambition. I am not against a man waiting office. If he did not seek office the men who are in office would not behave. The fact that men are always after their jobs causes them to keep straight. When a man would tell me of some good deed he has done, I would say to him, 'Wait. Others will find out soon enough. We will get all the work we can out of him now, but when he gets to the office he will find out that he is not the right man.' Love of fame will lead you astray if you forget God.

"The god of Physical Comfort is not as high as the god of Wealth, because it does not make you work. You simply eat and eat and eat. Then you sleep, and sleep and sleep. And after you sleep and sleep and sleep, you eat and eat and eat.

MIND AS A SERVANT.
"Next is the Intellectual god. I like to see people read, but I don't like to see them read all the time. The mind, like the body, is to be the servant of something higher than the body and mind. There is something higher—the soul. The soul can take a human mind and purge it of selfishness and vice.

"The god of Travel is the next one. A splendid thing is travel. I would rather spend one day in India on the banks of the Ganges to learn of idolatry than to read all the books ever written on the subject. But if a person travels and travels and travels, he is not getting anything out of the world without putting anything in the world they are destroying. Men worship the god of Passion and those who do are destroyed. They love themselves.

"On the lowest of the shelves I have placed the destructive god, the three that drag men down. The first of these is the god of Chance. The god of Chance is destructive because it overthrows the divine law of reward. The Lord said, 'Go work, and in importance to your intelligence and industry so shall be your reward.' When men try to get something out of the world without putting anything in the world they are destroying. Men worship the god of Passion and those who do are destroyed. They love themselves.

"Next is the god of Drink. This god of Drink destroys the love of a man for his wife, destroys the love of a boy for his mother, destroys the love of a father for his child, brings man down to the level of the beast and lower than the brute.

"I am no minister, and do not know theology. I do know what conversion means. It means a human being shall deliberately and voluntarily decide and obey the first commandment. He shall put God first and himself in the background. It does not take a man longer to become a Christian than a murderer.

"A man commits murder in a second. The time it takes to become a Christian is just that long—spec long enough for a man to look God in the face and say 'I will obey the first commandment.' 'I love a spring. To me a spring is most fascinating. What a vast difference there is between a pool and a spring. The pool gathers in the lowlands, bringing disease and death. The spring gathers from a source higher than itself. Christ established a connection between man and the reservoir of almighty God. The worship of false gods, whether they be big or the little ones which teaches us little steps, are sure to lead to longer wrong steps. These are the nine false gods that men worship, but they are the manifestation of the One God. You shall not put yourself first and God last. God comes first.

WATERLOO, IOWA, SENDS ITS FAIR TWINS TO THE BAPTIST CONVENTION: MISS LAURA AND MISS LEILE COWLISHAW.

and coast organizations were held by the Baptists, resulting in Rev. Frank L. Anderson of Chicago being again placed in the presidential chair of the former and A. R. Heron of Los Angeles being re-elected to the presidency of the latter.

Many additional delegates to both Baptist conventions registered this morning. It is to be understood that the union is not a legislative body, but is in convention for the purpose of an inspiration conference. The workers exchange views better to spread the Baptist gospel. A workers' congress held yesterday proved of great value to the many who attended. This conference was classified and led as follows:

Standard, Rev. W. E. Monbeck, Washington; finance, W. Harley Smith, Colorado; evangelism, A. C. Bishop, Oregon; membership, Rev. W. L. Clapp, Iowa; juniors, Miss Anne Meyer, Pennsylvania.

MANAGERIAL BOARD REPORTS.
Committees on resolutions and on important business were appointed by the chair and will report back by tomorrow morning. The report of the board of managers was submitted and taken under advisement. In this report the board recommended a budget of $3000 for the fiscal year, commencing June 1, last. The board urges that, inasmuch as this marks the twenty-fourth anniversary of the founding of the Baptist Young People's Union of America, the next convention should be made a meeting of more than usual significance and that if possible the twenty-fifth anniversary be observed by a convention in Chicago, the birthplace of the Baptist Young People's Union. The board requests that the executive committee be empowered to appoint a large and representative convention committee and arrange to pay special honor to those who were leaders in the organization a quarter century ago. The board recommends that the competition for Junior C. C. banners be discontinued at the close of this year. The financial report sets forth that cash on hand totals $1689.71.

PACIFIC COAST CONVENTION.
The Pacific coast convention went into executive session late yesterday afternoon. In regard to this department its president, Alex. R. Heron of Los Angeles, when interviewed, said:

"The future of the Pacific coast convention has been definitely outlined by our department secretaries and in the resolutions adopted at our convention the endorsement of the policy of the executive committee gives the elected officers encouragement to proceed for the coming year along the most aggressive possible lines. Our organization, including nearly six hundred churches and over 20,000 members, has enjoyed most solid support each year. The new policies adopted furnish us the basis of strong detailed organization through our three commissions, and our great objective, the development of the young people's society in every church, association and state in the Pacific coast field to a uniform efficiency will be pressed during the coming year as no organization has ever attempted in the past. Our Pacific coast district represents a Baptist membership of nearly one hundred thousand and it is very gratifying that the national officers have conceded to us the most efficient condition in our young people's work of any section on the continent. During the early history of our convention there seemed to be some feeling that the organization of a new convention west of the Rocky mountains would tend to more or less separation from the international union, but our meeting together here in Oakland has resulted in the most gratifying understanding and close cooperation and a thorough definite arrangement for our future work.

COAST SECRETARIES' REPORTS.
Reports were made by the following coast officers: Field secretary, secretary of missions, secretary of religious education, secretary of junior and intermediate work, treasurer, chairman of the board of managers, committee on resolutions, committee on nominations.

The report of A. L. Wadsworth, field secretary, set forth that the year just closed has been the most fruitful in the coast organization's history. Eleven out of the twelve state conventions in the Pacific Coast field have state organizations. Twenty-seven out of forty associations are organized. The personal work done by members during the year saved many souls. Considerable missionary and philanthropic work has been accomplished. There is a growing unity among Baptist young people. All of this was set forth in the report.

SEEK NEW LAWS.
The Pacific Coast Convention of the Baptist Young People's Union was organized in Oakland, June 19, 1910. It stands for three great ideals—Character, Education and Evangelization. These three ideals are based on three texts of holy writ. The field secretary made the following recommendations to the organization:

One—An emphasis upon the local organizations.
Two—An annual Young People's Day, naming the third Sunday in September.
Three—Some specific object of beneficence through the treasury of the local church.

Four—Continued emphasis on daily systematic reading of the Bible, using the "Bible Reader's Course."

Five—Continued insistence on the constant reading of the church paper, week by week, including also the reading of "Service and Missions."

Six—The steady inculcation of the "tithing" principle of giving as a minimum; in other words, giving God His tenth.

Seven—A change of policy, substituting commissions in each state convention on "Missions and Evangelism," "Religious Education," "Junior and Intermediate Work," for the present coastwide secretaries in these three departments.

This and the other reports were ordered filed.

Humor and pathos, with an underlying current of religious lore, were paramount in addresses delivered last evening before the joint Baptist convention by Rev. W. H. Geiswiler of San Diego, and Rev. H. F. Perry of Brooklyn.

Excerpts from "Our Mission" by Rev. Geiswiler, follows:

"There are two messages of the Baptist church. The first is 'Get Right With God.' The second 'Get Right With Your Brother.'

"The full front of Baptist teaching is world democracy."

"There is a big difference between Liberty and Freedom. Freedom is the work of God on a human soul. Liberty is the sensible working out of religious freedom."

"There is one thing certain about this war. I don't know who will win it. I am inclined to think that no one will. I know that there is going to be a funeral and I want to be present. There will be one grave 10,000 fathoms deep and in it will be buried the 'divine right of kings.'"

"You can never have a social conscience until you have an individual conscience."

"How shall we live together? is an important subject. The world is getting small. We heard here in the United States of the pope's death two hours before he died. We now hear that we will soon get in touch with Mars. If the inhabitants of Mars are like the pictures depicting them, then Lord deliver me from seeing them."

"On the ground of personal liberty, the liquor man is trying to tempt us; but on the ground of personal relationship, we are going to abolish him."

"Robinson Crusoe's eye, bulged out when he saw a footprint in the sand. His personal liberty died then. He asked, 'How am I going to get along with that foot?' The Baptist answer to that is, 'First, Fatherhood; second, Brotherhood. If men are equal before God, they are equal before men, but God must make them so.'"

"The Baptists of Virginia started the Declaration of Independence. They were ahead of July 4th, 1776."

REV. PERRY EXCELLENT.
Equally as interesting as the following excerpts from Rev. Perry's address on "Recreation and Amusements of a Young Christian."

"Recently an Irish girl, just over, was taking her first car ride. The bloom of the old country was on her cheeks. The conductor called out 'Your fare, young lady.' She replied, 'Sure I be, but don't tell all the folks. Our young people are so fair that we want to keep them in the spring of youth to do God's work.'"

"I am not going to tell you about Miss Iowa Ford tonight. However, a friend of Mr. Ford bought a Ford. After using it for a short while he noticed that it did not run smoothly. He invited Ford to take a ride with him. He accepted. The machine went along all right for a short distance, then began to jerk. Mr. Ford said, 'Something is the matter with it. I will see.' Ford examined the machine and said, 'I'll tell you what is the trouble, sir. They forgot to put the engine in. It has been running on its reputation. Young people can't run on their reputation.'"

"The Northern Baptist Convention met on this coast recently and did something which I consider a mighty big thing. Their evangelistic program is that within the next five years, by the aid of God, they seek to win one million people to the savior. There is demagogues, vision, prophetic utterances and audacity about it. If you attempt a small thing you will fall down. If you attempt a big thing in the name of Jesus Christ you will win out. That's audacity."

"I spent last Sunday in Canada at the home of a boy who I had baptized. He and the son-in-law of the same family, a man whom I had married, were to go to the front the following morning. The boy's sister is to prepare herself to be a nurse. There used to be a light mindedness in Canada. Now they are on their knees praying to God. Whether they be right in going to war from Canada I will not say here, though I know what I would say if I were in Canada now. The light mindedness has gone on and there is a mighty task on hand. Young people, our thought of amusement must be connected with 'our task.' If men and women can give their best for human service we can give our best for Jesus Christ."

"The reward of work well done is more work."

"If we would do what we could we could do what we would. A sort of service preceded the speakers. It was led by J. F. Talbot.

AFTERNOON ADDRESSES.
Rev. L. P. Valentine of Los Angeles addressed the coast conference last evening at 7:30 o'clock on "The Field Workers and the Pacific Coast Convention." He said:

"Upon the field secretary and the state convention rests the responsibility of the real training of our young people. Right in this connection the Pacific coast convention may be of great assistance. Six or seven words express this relationship. In the first place the coast convention can serve each state convention by investigation by discharging local conditions and the study of the problems which are common to us all. In the next place it may assist the general worker in the matter of 'concentration,' that emphasis must be laid that our young people may be led to concentration their energies upon the things most essential. The next word is 'participation.' By leading our young people out into larger fields of service and enlisting more of them individually in the work. Participation is a key word in young people's work. The next line of service which the convention can render help is that of leading all our young people on the coast in co-operation and unification in the work. Perhaps more significant than any of these is 'inspiration,' which the convention brings to our local societies. By this assistance the field worker may lead the individual young into larger enthusiasm, into the realm of larger vision. Into a definite surrendered life in Christian service."

CHINESE BAPTISTS SING.

Nine Chinese girls, members of the Chinese Baptist Mission of Oakland, in charge of Miss Jennie June Egli, were in attendance yesterday afternoon and rendered several sacred vocal selections. Miss Annie Quan, possessed of a fine soprano voice, sang a solo. The singers were heartily cheered.

MEETING PLACE CHANGED.
With the exception of the final rally, Sunday evening, which will be held in the Municipal Auditorium, the convention will convene in the Baptist church at the intersection of Jones street and Telegraph avenue.

NEW JERSEY ABOLISHING HER COMMISSIONS

More than ten years ago the state of New Jersey fell under the rule of innovators and experimenters. They were imbued with the idea of breaking up the administrative authority of the state into a multitude of small departments or bureaus, each in the hands of a special commission. The scheme grew and grew until there were something like a hundred inconsequential little boards, each dipping its fingers into the state coffers and charged with some duty, large or small, of public administration. Some of these commissions dealt with really important things, but the great part became, under process of time, mere "places" to provide jobs for the men through whose efforts legislators had been brought to authorize them. Then there were a lot of trifling honorary commissions empowered to do one little thing or another for the commonwealth, with only traveling expense allowances to make them financially attractive. In its recent development the scheme has become confusing and very costly. Even the little unsalaried commissions came to augment the financial burdens of the state by their demands for office room, for clerk hire, for printing, for traveling expenses, for supplies of one kind or another—these with a hundred other petty demands.

Before the legislature of last winter the inconveniences, mischiefs and costs of this system were freely discussed. And the result was an effort to reduce the chaos to something like order by consolidating, co-relating and simplifying functions and boards and decreasing the number of officials to a degree where they were not to be eternally falling over each other. The new system, as adopted by the legislature, practically establishes the one-man policy. There are five or six well defined departments with a by-partisan commission to supervise each; but each is to appoint an executive chief to carry on the work. There is to be no confusion in the conduct of affairs. All the commissions are required to get together once a month for the purpose of comparing notes and co-ordinating their work. Instead of the loose system of the recent past, New Jersey is to have a closely woven administrative machine to do its work at all important points. A large saving is looked for. The cut in salary account alone approximates $100,000, and many times that amount, it is believed, will be saved by abolishing honorary boards that have a propensity to amuse themselves with public questions. New Jersey needs to save its money. The old system has exhausted every department of the public revenue. A condition had been reached under which it was necessary either to reduce expenditures or resort to special taxation.

New Jersey is neither the first nor the only state to feel the burden of that order of things devised under the reform wave of recent years. Here on the Pacific Coast, Oregon, first to go into the reform business, has practically doubled the number of her officials and quasi-officials and more than doubled the tax charge upon property. It is not quite so bad in California, but bad enough in all conscience. The movement inaugurated here a little more than four years ago has largely increased the number of tax-eaters and augmented our tax bill. If there be anybody to question this statement, let him search his box of records and compare his tax statements of five years ago with those of today.

THE RECLAMATION PROJECTS.

Under the provisions of the reclamation law of 1902, reclamation projects have been constructed affording water supply sufficient for 1,300,000 acres of land. During 1913, the most recent period for which data is available, the crop production on land already supplied with water was valued at $15,700,000. This is but the beginning of developments that will furnish employment for thousands of men and women.

The production referred to was from an area of only 700,000 acres then under cultivation. The last annual report of the Reclamation Service shows that with relatively small additional expense the total acreage supplied with water can be increased to three million acres. Considering the immense amount of work to be done in the construction of reclamation projects on a plan designed to be permanent, it is remarkable what progress has been made. The first considerable amount of irrigation on government projects was reached in 1906, when 22,000 acres of arid land was supplied with water. In 1913 700,000 acres was reached.

The reclamation of arid land under government projects is still in its infancy, and has necessarily been slow because both the government officials and the farmers have been compelled to learn from experience what methods are most successful and satisfactory. Development will be far more rapid in the future. Vast areas of land that was previously abandoned to sage brush, jack rabbits and coyotes, will for all time to come make pleasant homes for thrifty American farmers, produce food for residents of American cities and add enormously to the wealth of the nation.

Anticipating that development must be slow, the framers of the reclamation act provided for settlement by homesteaders under a plan of payment by installments covering a ten-year period, which period Congress has since extended to twenty years. The purpose of the act was to provide more farm homes and extend the areas of productive land. While the act was a departure from the accepted ideas of the proper scope of government, experience has proven the wisdom of government initiative in an undertaking so large that private enterprise could not be expected to invest unless given concessions that might ultimately be found against the interests of the homesteaders.

The successful inauguration of the reclamation scheme is one of the numerous achievements to which the Republican party can justly point with pride. The reclamation law was enacted in 1902 by a Republican Congress and signed by a Republican President. It stands on the statute books alongside of the pure food law, the postal savings bank law and the parcel post law as mute but permanent evidence of the constructive policies of the party. They compose an irrefutable answer to President Wilson's declaration that the Republican party had not had a new idea in thirty years.

A TIMELY DEMAND.

In a note to the Oakland Board of Education, the Tax Association of Alameda county emphasizes a point of great importance as related to the practice, not only of the school board, but of pretty much every other agency which has to do with the expenditure of public money. The Tax Association asks for "such a financial statement" as will present "in detail all transactions involving the receipt and expenditure of money." In support of this request the Tax Association says:

The school board is acting for the people, and as their agent should annually at least, render a report of its stewardship.

We believe this report should be compiled and published prior to the presenting of the budget to the County Board of Supervisors. We also believe that if the proper system of accounting is applied, the publication of this report can be made in ample time to permit the taxpayers to study it prior to the adoption of the tax levy.

Further detail of what is desired is supplied by questions relative to every form of income and all the larger items of outgo. For example, there are questions, the answers to which should exhibit amounts of money received: (a) on account of county levy; (b) contributions from the state; (c) from state on account of non-resident pupils; (d) from sale of old materials, etc., etc. On the outgo side of the account the questions presented by the Tax Association call for such segregation of the account as would show what sums and in what proportion the funds at the disposal of the board are paid for administration, for principals of schools, for teachers in the different departments, etc., etc.

This inquiry on the part of the Tax Association is both timely and searching. It is timely because there has grown up in connection with our school system a vast administrative machine which apparently consumes a considerable part of the fund appropriated for public education. In other and simpler days all the money provided on education account went to the equipment and maintenance of school houses and for the pay of teachers. There was no "overhead," practically no incidentals. The educational fund went, for education. But it appears now that the business of education is only one of many items in the elaborate organization of the educational department. There are clerks, accountants, messengers, purchasing agents, stenographers, with a multitude of other functionaries, necessary possibly under the developments of the system, and in the aggregate drawing down a large amount of public money theoretically bestowed for purposes of education.

The inquiry is searching because through publication of financial accounts in detail the public may understand how and to what purposes its funds are being expended. Where fiscal statements are so condensed or so technical as to deal only with "bottom figures," they leave the public in the dark as to matters, whereof they have the right to be informed. Issues of policy in management and in instruction stand directly related to particular items of expenditure. For this reason, if for no other, detailed fiscal statements are essential to public comprehension of public affairs.

The demand made by the Tax Association upon the Board of Education might properly be extended to every department of our county and municipal affairs. Prior to every tax levy there should be a public statement exhibiting in detail the purposes to which the funds proposed to be raised are to be applied. There is temptation, even invitation, to extravagance and dishonesty in arbitrary tax levies and lump-sum appropriations where detailed publicity is not required. Most of the abuses of which we hear criticism from time to time would be avoided or corrected if there were no privacies or secrets in methods of accounting to the public. Of the many schemes of publicity in connection with public fiscal affairs, none is so enlightening and so effective as detailed statements of money received and money spent. Statements of this kind go at once to the center and to the circumference of every transaction. By exhibiting where money comes from and where it goes, it lets in the light not only upon the finances, but upon the policies of administration.

We have never been able to understand the fixed attitude of officialdom in its opposition to what in other countries is styled a "budget"—that is, an outline of special requirements made in advance of tax levies. We have nothing of the kind either in our national, state, county or municipal systems. Whenever it is proposed officialism rises in protest. Multitudinous arguments are presented to illustrate the impracticability of the suggestion. But there is an overwhelming answer. It is that the budget system is enforced in every country of Europe. Surely what may be done in England, France and Germany may be done here. It would unquestionably call for labor on the part of the officials, but we have not observed that this particular element of our body politic is so engrossingly employed that it might not divert some time and some energy to the purpose of public information with respect to public business.

It seems that some one has erred in Long Beach—thing incomprehensible in a suburb of Los Angeles. With the names "Farragut" and "Mead" cut into the Lincoln memorial monument just unveiled, and with the stonecutters swearing that they followed copy, a search for the responsible ignorant has begun. What is interesting Northern California is who the unusually bright person in Long Beach could have been who discovered the mistake and spread the news of it.

Among minor points of inconvenience and irritation which have developed in connection with the administration of the Municipal Auditorium, The Tribune begs leave to point to the lemonade and ice cream concession. Wednesday night's performance of the "Messiah" was marred by the energies of licensed vendors, who, passing through the audience, took advantage of andante and religioso passages to urge ginger-pop and cream cones upon the auditors.

Quite irrelevant, not to say impertinent, was the slip of Mayor Davie at ex-Mayor Mott in connection with Thursday's council proceedings. When, in connection with his own demand for an official automobile, a member of the council remarked that Mayor Mott had not been so provided, Mayor Davie remarked that "Mott only came around on payday." We may easily believe that this was intended as a pleasantry; but it was not a pleasant pleasantry.

Henry Ford has sent to a private hospital in New York five young men—three alcoholic and two morphine users—for treatment in the hope that he can make happy, reliable and self-respecting wage earners out of them. They are manhood patients. Mr. Ford believes that no man is so far down in the human scale that he cannot be pulled back to usefulness. It is a view that requires a deal of patience and resourcefulness.

BATHTUB POPULAR WITH THE ESKIMOS

Teacher in Furthest North School Has Many Duties to Perform.

A teacher just issued by the Bureau of Education of the Federal Department of the Interior describes the life of the Eskimo and natives of a school in Arctic Alaska, at latitude 71 degrees and 25 minutes, and says that it is the most isolated school in the world. It appears that the school teacher must also be physician, nurse and health officer, organizer of native cooperative commercial ventures, administrator of the law, the maker and general guardian of the business and moral and physical health of the community.

A report from the furthest north school describes the bathtub as the special and most lively feature of the school life. It means in part:

When the supplies shipped here last summer were a tank and portable bathtub very much needed in the community. When the boats of the summer were gone we began assembling all of the material available for making a rough bathtub and built the first. The lumber left over from the repairs made two years ago and by trading some of the old things left over from the building of the schoolhouse years ago to the captain of a ship of the common lumber, we were able to build a ship 16 by 25.

This ship is open to the free use of the community at all times of the year except Saturdays, day of market. When the people were making their preparations to go whaling it was often in the day and night. It has been a veritable beehive of industry. The ship was built entirely by volunteer labor, and the men were as faithful as if they had been receiving pay for the job. The only material that was purchased was 477 feet of dimension timber.

A special feature of Kivalina school life is the bathtub. The new stove and bathtub were set up and connected before school opened. This afternoon after school hours were given over to the girls and Saturdays to the boys. It was no uncommon sight to see four boys in the tub at once. They never seemed to get enough of the water and soap, and on various occasions took two baths the same day. Adults took advantage of the tub. Practically every white man who traveled this way was invited to enjoy the luxury of a bath and all were grateful in their appreciation. Four hundred and ninety-two baths were recorded for the term, approximately twenty baths per child, based on an average attendance of twenty-five, and not once was bathing compulsory.

"The natives of this village," another report says, "have revolutionized the old method of living. Almost every family has a bathtub, and with good reason. Efforts in this direction have been amply repaid. Owing to the fact that the school building is too small, we have a shower almost at the door of the residence with the natives. We receive many callers. Whenever a native was going on a long journey I had him come in just before he started, and wash his face and hands and antiseptics for use in case of accident. All learn how to use a bandage and to keep a wound free from infection. All Eskimos love music. Six have taken lessons regularly and the three are able to play at public gatherings, and one boy has a small organ of his own. One evening in each week has been given to training in vocal music which was open to all and was much appreciated. A native choir supplies the music for Sunday gatherings.

"The reindeer herd serves the purpose of a bank for the natives. If they have a reindeer herd, and know it is safe, while the increase amounts to a good rate of interest. This form of investment is now popular here. "We have a school here just as new schools are built and old ones remodelled open-air schoolhouses are provided, since a large percentage of the death rate among the natives is due to tuberculosis."

THE UNHAPPY FISHERMAN.
The birds, they sing you fast asleep beside your empty cup;
The big fish tug in' at the bait, they allus wake you up.
An' then the hook is in the fish at all wher-eyer I may roam;
I only seek the honey to find the empty comb!

I roam the snake-wild woodlands at morn'g
An' then the rattler bites me, though the jig's full to the brim;
An' then the "hon in the way"—full speed I see him go—
I cannot catch an' sell him for a fortune to a show.

O world o' tribulation, so full of problems deep!
I never find the money that I dream of in my sleep!
But though the righteous suffer on this earth, I'm rich;
They hold a first fast mortgage on Eden's blissful bowers!
—Frank L. Stanton, in the Atlanta Constitution.

NOTABLE PERSONS.
W. K. Kellogg of Battle Creek, Michigan, the breakfast food manufacturer who arrived at Fairbanks, Alaska, was taken to a hospital, seriously ill. He will depart for Seattle, accompanied by a nurse.
Dr. Wolf Hopper, the comic opera star actor, "Casey at the Bat," proud father of long ago and proud father of a new little Hopper, moving picture star-to-be for fifty weeks next year at $2000 a week, and a human mountain that would make Jess Willard look like a beanpole, sat in the dining room of his summer cottage, "Villa Jerome," eating boiled rice and New Orleans molasses. Hopper said: "Yes, as long as you ask, I have contracted for fifty-two weeks with the films for next year."

The output of the station now is 300 a year, and can be considerably increased with the completion of a larger proportion of the work of Washington yard here here here.

Recently made a torpedo producing station. The cost of making torpedoes also has been reduced in the last two years, the secretary said.

A HARD ONE TO CRACK

VARIETIES.

Wise Movement.
An anti-luxury movement is beginning in London which promises to assume important proportions. The "Smart" people are entirely ceasing open gayeties and big dinners.

U. S. Gets $150,000,000 Gold.
That the imports of gold to meet war supply expenditures will reach $150,000,000 by September 1, is an unofficial estimate made today by the Federal Reserve board in Washington.

The figures were given by W. P. G. Harding, who pointed out that the influx would exceed the output of raw materials by more than $50,000,000. The Department of State is informing agents in this country representing passenger lines to South America that it would be wise for them to advise all American passengers to provide themselves with passports.

Reports received at the department from the embassy at Rio de Janeiro say that the steamship companies are refusing to take on board at that port any passengers without passports.

Some Americans there have experienced difficulty in getting away.

Two Talkers.
Former President Taft is becoming a humorist of consequence. In a recent speech he said, referring to Mr. Bryan and his resignation from the cabinet: "I wish to speak of a gentleman for whom I have sympathy from a common experience. That gentleman in an election campaign in which I took some part said that I had been elected by a large majority, but that I would go out by a unanimous vote. He made this statement as near to a political truth as it was ever possible for him to come. Now that he has been retired with general approval, I stand here to defend him and to say that we who are trying to reform the world with our lungs and throats must stand together, and because we make an occasional slip is no reason why our profession should turn against us."

EX-PRESIDENT ELIOT OF HARVARD ON WAR AND PEACE.

President Eliot's "The Road Toward Peace" is a collection of addresses and newspaper letters by the president emeritus of Harvard. These cover a period from 1907 to yesterday. Throughout there is a refreshing freedom from ready-made realistic formulas. At a time when the peace propaganda was in a hopelessly verbal stage, and compulsory arbitration by fiat of The Hague was actually regarded as a practical measure, President Eliot's rather pointed need of putting force behind the peace proposals in the shape of an international police. This capacity to keep his feet on the solid ground of common sense and practicality and to resist the seductive but empty promises of the peace propaganda is a rare quality. In the entire work there is hardly an ill-considered opinion or a datum lightly accepted. In discussing the present war he goes straight to leading principles. The general moderation of the style gives double potency to such verdicts as:

The new doctrine of military necessity affects all law, and is completely and hopelessly barbarous.
[The German] is not a freeman in the French, English or American sense, and he prefers not to be.
The real cause of the war is this gradually developed barbaric state of the German mind and will.—New York Evening Post.

WORLD MAKERS.

Early in the fall Henry Holt & Co. will inaugurate a series of biographies to be called "Makers of the Nineteenth Century." Each volume will contain the life of a man or a woman who exercised influence of some sort in the shaping of the events of the last century, and the series will, therefore, include biographies of statesmen, lawyers, leaders of movements, men of science, theologians, historians, philosophers, musicians, men of letters, artists, inventors. As it is intended chiefly for the English and American public a larger proportion of the volumes will deal with Anglo-Saxons than with foreigners.

THE RIVALS.

The rivals of rivals, Martinez and Richmond are getting together for a series of games that will most likely start on a week from today. Probable dares have been talked over by the managers and everything looks lovely for a great session but, of course, Richmond thinks that there is nothing to it.—Vallejo Times.

TWENTY YEARS AGO TODAY

At the session of the California State Association of Dentists "Surgical Treatment of Ulcerated Teeth" was the subject of a paper by Dr. Parsons of San Diego. Dr. Russell H. Cool of this city opened the discussion on the subject by saying that he thought there is room for hope that the improvement in this branch of dentistry would continue so that such a thing as the loss of a tooth from these causes would not be possible. Dr. Marian Craig of this city, who has been practicing for five years, made application for membership in the association. She will be the second woman who has been admitted to fellowship in the organization, the first one being Miss McElroy, a niece of Warden Hale of San Quentin.

Prattis Selby is spending a week in Menlo Park.

Charles Townsend has gone on a bicycle tour through the interior of the state.

Miss L. McCullough is camping with friends at Point Arena.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Magee and family are spending their vacation in Yosemite valley.

W. S. Pheasant has gone to Ukiah for a few weeks. Miss Emily Raymond departed last week for a fortnight's sojourn in Redwood canyon.

Charles R. Yates is passing his vacation hunting and fishing in Shasta county.

Mrs. Carrie Fross-Snyder is the guest of friends in Vallejo.

Miss Anne Male Von Ahnen left for her home near Calistoga. She is a graduate of the May '05 class of Snell Seminary.

THE JESTER.

Surts.

The skirt is a tubular envelope designed to create commotion and discourage locomotion. It is opaque, translucent, transparent, etc., according to the roughness of Gartrude. If the hoarsely and petticoat are bizarre and the ankles are pretty, a slit is made in the lower edge of the skirt to expedite Gertie's mobility. Skirts begin at wherever the waistline happens to be and extend to the ankles when the wind is not blowing. On the stage and at the beach good form dispenses with them. Some skirts should be worn in the dark of the moon.—Judge.

Mrs. Ede—Can't afford to let me go to the seashore. Why not? My board there wouldn't cost much more than it does here.

TSE-NE-GAT'S FEAST AMUSES COURT

Mother of Alleged Slayer Laughs When Strange Orgy Is Described.

By Associated Press. DENVER, Colo., July 9.—Testimony concerning the actions of Tse-Ne-Gat, Plute Indian, on trial in the Federal district court on the charge of murder of Juan Chacon, a herder, on the night following the alleged murder, was given today by "Old Sam," a fellow tribesman. The defendant, the witness said, arrived late at his camp with "two and a half dollars' worth of soda crackers and eight cans of peaches," and upon these delicacies he told the court that he and Tse-Ne-Gat feasted until early morning.

When "Old Sam" began his story, the attention of spectators was directed to "Ma Old Folks," mother of Tse-Ne-Gat, who broke into a fit of uncontrollable laughter. A bailiff had been directed to ask her to remain quiet when the interpreter began a translation of "Old Sam's" version of the feast. A wave of laughter swept over the courtroom, in which Judge Lewis himself joined.

Tse-Ne-Gat, the witness said, told him that he had received money and the food at the agency at Navajo Springs.

Harry Tom, another Plute, testifying for the government, corroborated previous testimony by John Miller and Little Tom, to the effect that they had seen the defendant dragging the body of the herder and later saw him throw it into a ravine. The witness declared further that he had been offered money to testify for the defense by Antonio Buck, a son of a Plute chief, but on examination he swore positively that this was not true and that he had "made crooked talk" to the Federal district attorney.

CHARGED WITH USING U. S. MAIL TO DEFRAUD

SEATTLE, Wash., July 9.—Harry C. Logan of Charleston, Wash., former vice-presidential candidate, was arrested in Charleston by Deputy United States Marshal Albert Hook and Postoffice Inspector C. N. Moore of Chicago, charged with using the mail with intent to defraud, in the sale of a preparation for automobile tires. The official charge that the preparation is a concoction of kerosene and value to run automobiles. Logan furnished a bond of $3000 to appear in Chicago for trial.

MAN FIRES FOUR SHOTS INTO HOME; ENDS LIFE

By Associated Press. YANCOUVER, B. C., July 9.—Samuel Portsette, a resident of Sunnich, a short distance from Victoria, last night attempted to kill J. Ferry and his son, neighbors of his, by firing four bullets into their house, then returned to his home and killed himself. Portsette and the elder Ferry quarreled recently. None of the shots fired into the Ferry home took effect.

ENDEAVORERS HEAR WAR DISCUSSION

Canadian Editor Tells Convention "Armed Peace" Proves Inevitable War.

By Associated Press. CHICAGO, July 9.—"Armed peace" has proved itself inevitable war, Dr. J. A. Macdonald, editor of the Toronto (Canada) Globe, told delegates attending the world's Christian Endeavor convention here today in an address on "Christianity, the War and the Social Problem." "Not again in this generation nor even again in this century shall the world be called 'armed peace,'" Dr. Macdonald said. "That fallacy at last has had its day."

MUSIC TEACHERS WILL HOLD CONVENTION RALLY

A convention rally meeting of the Alameda County Music Teachers' Association will be held at Hotel Oakland tomorrow evening. Final plans for the convention which is to be held in Oakland next week will be discussed at this time. The convention committee will make a final report regarding their work at this meeting.

The state convention of the Music Teachers' Association of California which convenes at Hotel Oakland Tuesday morning is an event of great importance to the musicians of the state. Noted artists and speakers not only from California but from the east are to be present including Horatio Parker, Ernest Kroeger and George W. Chadwick. Daily recitals and sessions will be held morning, afternoon and evening throughout Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of next week.

SALE OF ALASKAN LAND NEAR SEWARD IS BEGUN

By Associated Press. SALT LAKE, Alaska, July 9.—The sale of lots in the railroad reserve along the route of the government railroad from Seward to Fairbanks will begin today. It was originally scheduled for yesterday, but was postponed in order to give buyers coming on the steamship Mariopos a opportunity to bid. A hundred men are at work clearing the streets of the town. One of the workers, named Frank Armstrong, was killed by a falling tree yesterday. Lieutenant Frederick Meares, of the Alaska Engineering Commission, who makes his headquarters here, has issued a notice to the people now occupying railroad reserve land that after the sale they will be considered trespassers and forced to move.

UTILITIES LEAGUE URGES WATER PLAN

Non-Political Organizations Are Asked to Support the Move.

The following letter dealing with the proposed formation of a municipal water district was sent to all non-political organizations yesterday by the Public Utilities League.

"January 8, 1914, the Public Utilities League composed of delegates from the improvement, commercial and labor organizations of Alameda county, was permanently organized at the Chamber of Commerce.

"The Public Utilities League, acting in behalf of the people, is a successful organization opposing the formation of a metropolitan water district under the statutes enabling act then available upon the statutes. After stating specific objections to that law, the league presented the people the alternative of a water district under the objectionable law, the league would present to the state legislature, in January, 1915, a law that would be fair to the people and protect their interests.

FIRST PLAN DEFEATED.

"The proposition to form a district under the old law was defeated, and the Public Utilities League has kept its promise to the people by preparing and submitting to the legislature, in January, 1915, one of the very best public ownership laws of the statute books of any state in the Union. That law was passed in its entirety by the legislature and has received the approval of the governor. It will become effective as a law August 8, 1915. A copy of this law is transmitted herewith for examination.

"The Public Utilities League believes that a great majority of the people in the east bay cities are in favor of the principle of municipal ownership, and particularly desire to obtain an ample supply of pure water sufficient to provide for the future growth of this territory, and the attending benefits that will be derived from improved service and lower rates.

HELP SOLICITED.

"Your support and assistance is solicited in an immediate movement to form an underground water district with the primary purpose of acquiring, owning and operating a public water system. Copy of the new constitution of the league is submitted herewith for your consideration and you are invited to send delegates.

"Regular meetings of the league are held at the headquarters, room 100, Bacon block, on the second floor, of each calendar month at 8 p. m.

"Please see that your delegates present their credentials at the next regular meeting.

INTERNATIONAL LUMBER CO. PROPERTY APPRAISED

By Associated Press. PHILADELPHIA, July 9.—The total valuation of the property of the International Lumber and Development Company, now under a receivership, was placed at $128,723 in a federal appraiser's report.

The appraisers spent nearly a month in Mexico with John S. Shinn, the receiver, going over the property to ascertain what course was practicable to pursue in behalf of the creditors of the concern, five promoters and officers of which are serving prison sentences. Another report will be made later by the receiver.

About $6,000,000 worth of the company's stock had been sold to investors in many parts of the country, and the value of the property as set forth in literature was placed at more than $37,000,000.

The appraisers stated that the plantation, consisting of 25,544 acres in Campeche, has been greatly neglected, and they fix the value at $11 an acre, while a rubber plantation of 500 acres is valued at only $1. The Henequen plantation, on an acreage of 15,525, was appraised at $25,550.

Whether the work of running the plantation will be resumed, it was stated, largely would depend upon suggestions made in the report of the receiver.

PLYMOUTH CHURCH CHOIR TO PRESENT PROGRAM

In connection with the series of sermons which Rev. Albert W. Palmer is preaching at Plymouth church, Oakland, on the "Spiritual Significance of the Exposition," the Plymouth choir will present three musical programs of great interest. Sunday evening, July 11, the choir will sing a short cantata, "The Redemption Hymn," by J. C. D. Parker, one of the early coteries of Boston composers. The work is for contralto solo and chorus and is one of great beauty and simplicity. The solo part will be sung by Mrs. Edna Fischer Hall.

Sunday evening, July 18, the musical selections of the service will be devoted to compositions of J. Haydn Pratt, a well-known San Francisco musician whose compositions deserve a wider hearing.

Sunday evening, July 25, the musical selections will be from the church compositions of Horatio Parker of Yale university, who is at present in residence in music at the summer school at the University of California, and whose $10,000 prize opera was performed for the first time last week in Los Angeles. The public is cordially invited to these services.

FRANCE CALLS HALT IN EXPORT OF GOLD

By Associated Press. PARIS, July 9.—A decree has been published prohibiting the export of gold except by the Bank of France. This is a precautionary measure taken at the suggestion of Minister of Finance Ribot. It has been found that exported gold has not been destined always for a neutral country in settlement of accounts. A free outflow might result in a dangerous traffic, according to M. Ribot.

The gold in the Bank of France has been limited this week by $2,500,000 as the result of the government's appeal that the gold supply of the country be exchanged for bank notes.

PRICE SET ON LIFE OF NEVADA MAGNATE

RENO, July 9.—In a letter dated Reno, July 2, an anonymous writer threatened the life of George Wingfield, a Nevada millionaire, on refusal to deliver $15,000 in gold. The fact that Wingfield had been threatened came to light when he offered $1000 reward for the arrest and conviction of the writer.

The letter recites that the writers have taken "some cash under black and white of Heaven in presence of God and Devil, to surrender lives before revealing identity."

Recommends Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

"I never hesitate to recommend Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy," writes Dr. Williams, merchant, Jesse, Tenn. "I sell more of it than any other preparation of like character. I have used it myself and found it gave me more relief than any other medicine ever tried for the same purpose." For sale at Osgood Bros drug store.—Advertisement.

Enjoins Enforcement of New Gas Rate

By Associated Press. LOS ANGELES, July 9.—A temporary restraining order in favor of the Los Angeles Gas and Electric corporation enjoining the city of Los Angeles from enforcing the new gas rate of 94 cents per 100 cubic feet for mixed gas of a British thermal unit and 57 cents for manufactured gas, was granted by Judge William August 8, when the provision of the new City Charter of San Francisco "the state law which gave the State Railroad Commission jurisdiction over public utilities" was invoked.

While indicating that the city had not yet had notice of the new rate, the judge made out a case for the city to be heard on the merits of the case.

LAWSON TRIAL CHARGES ARE AILED

TRINIDAD, Colo., July 9.—Charges that the verdict by which John R. Lawson, international executive board member of the United Mine Workers of America, was convicted of first degree murder, was secured through intimidation and jury tampering in the Lawson case, a motion to prohibit Judge Hillier from hearing several additional strike cases, is pending in the Colorado supreme court.

Lawson was convicted May 3 of first degree murder in connection with the killing of John Nimmo, a deputy sheriff, in a battle near Ludlow, Colorado, between deputies and striking coal miners.

The motion for a new trial filed by Lawson's attorneys was accompanied by an affidavit signed by Grover Hall, a member of the jury which convicted the labor leader. In it Hall declares he believes Lawson innocent. He swears that during the more than 40 hours of jury deliberation he was repeatedly told by Frank Gooden, the bailiff in charge of the jury, that his wife was dangerously ill. The affidavit makes the further charge that on May 3 the jury was not taken to luncheon at the usual hour, and that Gooden informed Hall that Judge Hillier had ordered the jurors to be locked in a room and given no food until they had agreed upon a verdict. Finally, Hall declares, he agreed to a verdict which he believed was contrary to the evidence.

Hall's affidavit is supported in part by the affidavit of another member of the Lawson jury, offered to the court at the opening of the arguments.

An affidavit by Bert Bramlett, who served as bailiff in the murder trial of Louis Zancanelli, preceding the Lawson trial, stated that Gooden had boasted to him that he had "brought pressure to bear upon Grover Hall."

Bertha Hall, wife of Grover Hall, in an affidavit offered to the court when the hearing opened, swore that during the Lawson trial she had a cold. The affidavit charges that on the evening of May 2 "one Zeke Martin" was in the house of affiant and insisted that affiant should have a doctor; that Martin finally called a physician, who said Mr. Hall was not seriously ill. Zeke Martin at that time was under-sheriff.

Other affidavits submitted to the court are from men alleged to have participated as mine guards in the battle in which Nimmo was killed, and purport to indicate that Nimmo was struck by a bullet fired by one of the guards, not by the strikers.

Elks Arriving in South for Session

LOS ANGELES, July 9.—Hundreds of Elks arrived here today as the vanguard of the delegations coming to attend the annual session of the Grand Lodge, which will open here next Tuesday. The Atlanta delegation, which is seeking the 1916 convention for the southern city, was first on the ground with a number of the grand officers and J. E. Nicholson, of Boston, who, it is predicted, will be the next Grand Exalted Ruler.

Special trains bringing delegations of Elks from practically every section of the country will arrive daily until Monday. The convention will be marked by various pageants during the three days it will remain in session.

PRESIDENT MAY ACT IN MEXICO TO FORCE PEACE WITHIN MONTH

Consuls Beg Decisive Steps Be Taken; Villa Army Wins Victory Over Carranza Troops

By Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, July 9.—Officials of the United States were discussing informally today the possibility of President Wilson taking further steps to bring about a restoration of peace in Mexico. This discussion was based upon reports from United States consuls in the northern part of Mexico pleading that decisive action to bring peace and tranquility to the southern republic be taken within a month.

The consuls refer to the threatened famine in Mexico, inability of the heads of the warring factions to bring peace, and the prediction that if prompt action is not taken by the United States conditions far worse than ever will prevail.

REMNAINT OF VILLA ARMY DRIVEN BACK

By Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, July 9.—General Villa has been defeated by Carranza troops ten miles south of Aguas Calientes and is retreating north, according to consular advices dated last night from Aguas Calientes. The message was brief and indicated that telegraphic communication very probably would be interrupted north of Aguas Calientes within a few days. No details were given.

The Carranza agency's advices relating to the same battle said:

"Villa's crippled army is retreating from Aguas Calientes with a view to making a new stand against the triumphant advance of the Constitutionalists at Zacatecas. Villa has only about six or seven thousand men all told, remaining to him. It is also said in the fight at Penuelas he also lost what little artillery remained to him after the successive defeats at and near Torreon."

VILLA ALSO CLAIMS VICTORY IN BATTLE

By Associated Press.
EL PASO, Tex., July 9.—Carranza forces were severely repulsed by General Villa yesterday near Aguas Calientes, according to a telegram received from Colonel E. Perez Ruiz, chief of staff to Villa. The Carranza troops suffered heavily in killed, wounded and war munitions lost.

The message states that Villa permitted the enemy to approach close to the city before resistance was offered; that vigorous fighting continued until late in the day, when the attacking forces were driven back to San Bartolo. The Carranza cavalry, infantry and artillery were engaged by Villa's cavalry, according to Ruiz's message, and plans were made by Villa to resume the fighting today with Villa's artillery and machine guns participating.

No mention was made of Villa's losses.

BANDIT THREATENS TO KILL ALL ALIENS

ROBERSON SHOWS GERMANY TALKS TONIGHT ON BELGIUM

Former Glory of Stricken Nation to Be Shown in Pictures

"Germany and the War," the powerful travelogue, by Frank R. Roberson, Tribune travelogue, proved the "piece de resistance" last evening at the Macdonough theater and the crowd which turned out to witness it was almost too much for the capacity of the house.

Every seat was gone. That this would be the situation was evidenced early in the evening, when a line of people extended from the Macdonough lobby to Broadway and the lobby itself and the walk in front was jammed. Reserved seats sold out long before the travelogue started.

So popular has "Germany" been in its two presentations so far in the travelogue's engagement that it is announced that it will be offered again Sunday evening. Tickets are selling today at the box office as it does with a nation which at the moment is holding the center of the stage in the world's attention. It is little wonder that the German travelogue has proved so unusually popular. This fact, added to the pertinence of the travelogue's motion pictures and colored views of the Fatherland make the subject exceedingly attractive.

AUDIENCE VARIED.

Many were among the German sympathizers, some who were not German in sympathies and a few who had sympathies at all, made up the audience of last evening. The first of course, presented Belgium and the horrors of the war, showing just where they stood on the matter, especially when pictures of the Kaiser or his troops were shown. "Hoch die din of sounds of applause if some body had started 'Die Wacht Am Rhein' it probably would have gone with a whim.

With a mixed audience and a delicate subject, Roberson handled things with tact. He didn't permit a manifestation of too much feeling by his talk and he kept well within the bounds of neutrality.

Last evening it was the spectacular side of war—the marching troops, the decorated and elegant officers, the maneuvers and the reviews. Tonight comes the other side. It will be the story of Belgium, the land of dikes, windmills and cheese. No country in the world has more of interest to the average tourist than this little land set off in the corner of Europe. The whole country is a garden, flowers blooming everywhere, the people are interesting and their costumes, customs and manners quite unusual.

For Saturday Mr. Roberson will present two subjects: Yellowstone Park, a

GHOSTSWIELD MATERIAL FISTS

Ralph White, a young carpenter, found out last night that ghosts have a bad habit of becoming material things when disturbed at their nocturnal sports, and has therefore decided to move from a long vacant house at 5377 Seventeenth street, which he moved into but two days ago.

White took the house on a dare. The place had been vacant for a year because it was common neighborhood knowledge that several ghosts congregated in the rear rooms and held revels nightly. White said he had no fear of ghosts and boasted to his friends yesterday that no midnight visitors had disturbed his sleep throughout the first night of his tenure.

Shortly before midnight last night, however, he was awakened by an eerie noise in a rear room. He shivered as one with ague, but forced himself to investigate. A ghostly face confronted him through the window. A ghastly rapping on the walls reminded him of a spirit dance which he had once attended.

Putting his courage into the high, White rushed to the face in the open window and struck out. His fist met nothing but air, he lost his balance and crashed to the ground of the rear yard. Then five very material ghosts—two men and three women—pounced upon him, gave him a beating and disappeared in the darkness. White vowed today, and the neighbors resumed their tales of the haunted house.

The police say that tramps have inhabited the place during the years it was vacant and evidently did not know that it had been recently occupied.

CARRANZA MAY YIELD, VILLA MAN HOPES

By Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, July 9.—Miguel Diaz Lombardo, foreign minister of General Villa's government at Chihuahua, in a speech before the National Press Club, expressed hope that the Carranza faction soon would accept Villa's suggestion that fighting cease and elections be called to establish a constitutional government in Mexico.

YAQUI REGULARS HIT "BRONCHOS" BLOW

By Associated Press.
GUAYMAS, Sonora, July 8, by wireless to San Diego, Cal., July 9.—An apparently successful attack was made on the "Broncho" Yaqui Indians at Oros, Sonora, yesterday by a large body of Yaqui Indians under Urbalejo. The latter, however, has appealed for reinforcements and ammunition, which were dispatched to him tonight.

The irregularities which have characterized the Yaqui warfare in the Yaqui Valley in Southern Sonora, are less frequent now. A train of eleven cars carrying cattle from Guaymas and merchandise from Corral, in the Yaqui Valley, moved here tonight, unmolested on the trip.

General Leyva, commander at Guaymas, who represented the Villa faction in the recent conference with Admiral Thomas B. Howard, aboard the flagship Colorado here, has been succeeded in his command by Colonel Tenorio. General Leyva and his family have left for Nogales on the northern border. No explanation of the change has been made public.

Searches State For Sister He Has Never Laid His Eyes Upon

Seeking a sister whom he has never seen, and who left Missouri, his home, as a small girl, William Thompson, of Liberty, Missouri, son of the late President William Thompson, of William Jewell College, is on his way to Oakland, in search of Mrs. Hannah Stevens, or Stephens, a woman with meager clues that lead him to believe he will find his sister in Oakland, Sacramento, or San Francisco, he will find and meet her before returning to his home.

Thompson and his sister are children of the late college president. Before Thompson was born his sister, then four years old, was taken to California by her grandparents. She is 37 years of age now.

She is known to have married Stevens, or Stephens, an attorney, and to have two sons, William and John. Also, it is known to have lived about the bay, from letters that were sometimes exchanged between brother and sister. They have not heard from each other lately.

CALIFORNIA SONG BIRD ARRIVES FROM EAST

Mrs. Beatrice Priest Fine, who made one of the important centers of California singers in New York, arrived from the east on Thursday, and is a guest at the home of her mother, Mrs. H. E. Priest, in Oakland, where she will spend the summer. Mrs. Fine has a studio in the Metropolitan Opera House building of New York, and is a noted concert artist of the east. One of her interesting appearances this season was in a concert given for the prisoners at Sing Sing, where she appeared, the invitation being given by the warden, Mr. Warden Osborne, who has inaugurated at the prison a series of monthly concerts by famous artists. Mrs. Fine gave a number of songs and the appreciation and enthusiasm of the audience made the experience unusual and memorable.

Two weeks ago Mrs. Fine sang for the thousands of aliens in detention at Ellis Island, and gave her songs in four languages for the emigrants from Ellis Island. Mrs. Fine's stay in Oakland is indefinite and her visit will be a quiet one, owing to the ill health of her mother, Mrs. Priest.

visit in picture to one of the most marvelous natural creations, in the world, and Russia and Poland in the evening. The matinee is at 3 o'clock and Mr. Roberson promises that it is one of the most interesting in his repertoire.

Admission to any travelogue is 10 cents with the coupon from The Tribune for unreserved seats in the balconies, or 25 cents with coupon for reserved seats on the first floor. The box office for the sale of the latter is open at 10 a. m. daily.

ADDRESS ON INDIA.

Mrs. J. L. Harper, of Los Angeles, but for many years, with her husband, a missionary in India, will give an address illustrated with the stereopticon of slides of scenes taken in India on Sunday evening, July 11, at St. Michael's Lutheran church, corner of Alcatraz and Benvenue. Illustrated songs will also be given. The Rev. E. O. Hoffmeister of Janesville, Wis., will preach at the morning service at 11 o'clock. St. Michael's Guild will meet with Mrs. Fred G. Rutkoff, 1129 Shattuck avenue, Berkeley, on Tuesday, July 13, at 2:30 p. m.

YOUNG GYPSY BRIDE TO BE RETURNED TO OWN FAMILY MEMBERS

That Mary Marino, the 18-year-old American girl, who was sold into a band of gypsies to become the bride of the son of a chief, will be returned to members of her family is probable as the result of the investigation now being made by the probation officers.

When the case was called before Superior Judge Wells in the Juvenile court today it was continued for three weeks at the request of Miss Theresa Rich, probation officer in charge of the girl, pending the outcome of delinquency charges.

Mary Marino, an Evelyn Mitchell, her American name, was arrested in Reno three weeks ago upon complaint of the Marinos, members of a Brazilian gypsy band, who charged that after her marriage to George Marino, the 14-year-old son of the chief, she had fled the camp, taking with her $500 with which to pay her way back to Helena, Montana, from which place she was taken by Heceta Gych while she was a baby in an orphanage. Gych sold her to Marino for $2000, and she was married in Seattle. It was after that that she decided to run away.

ARREST DELINQUENT JITNEY BUS DRIVER

Acting on a ruling given two weeks ago by former City Attorney Ben F. Woolner and later agreed to by City Attorney Mori, members of the traffic squad of the police department today arrested ten jitney bus drivers for failing to pay the $60 license in accordance with the provisions of the law adopted at the May election. In all more than 150 drivers of jitney buses are subject to arrest under this ruling.

Those arrested today by Corporal John Faby, head of the traffic squad, and Patrolman Flemming were: F. Dopman, Geo. G. Davis, Max Lafon, Charles Plambeck, Louis Clement, B. E. Icanberry, Harry Joseph, Orlan P. E. K. Cornstock and William G. Furber.

The members of the Jitney Bus Association are meeting this afternoon at 1020 Broadway with Attorney A. F. St. Sure. They will decide what action to take in the matter and the case may be carried to the Superior Court on a test action.

Thaw Testifies Again; Evelyn Is Subpoenaed

By Associated Press.
NEW YORK, July 9.—This was the second day of Harry K. Thaw's testimony as a witness for the state in his sanity trial.

His examination had proceeded as far as the coroner's jury had gained opinion in his fight for freedom which Thaw conducted while in New Hampshire.

Word has been received here that a writ calling upon Mrs. Evelyn Nesbit Thaw to appear in court has been served upon her. She did not respond to a subpoena as a witness, had been served upon her at Chateaugay Lake, and that a physician would examine her today to ascertain whether she is physically capable of making the journey to New York.

REDUCTION IN RATES TO DIABLO IS MADE

A reduction in passenger rates to the summit of Mount Diablo has been announced by the Oakland, Antioch and Eastern Railway and will remain in effect until September 30. Tickets for the round trip from San Francisco or Oakland will be sold for $2, and a return limit privilege of ten days will be granted. The railway company has also announced a special excursion rate of $1.50 from San Francisco or Oakland to its terminal at Diablo, the station at the base of the mountain. This is for the benefit of the campers and members of the Mt. Diablo Park Club. The return limit on these tickets is also ten days. During the past week the new highway to the summit has been opened and rendered dustless. Scores of automobiles are making the run to the top each day.

SCORES STILL ENTOMBED IN WRECKAGE

By Associated Press.
CINCINNATI, Ohio, July 9.—While twenty-nine bodies of victims of the storm of Wednesday night had been recovered, it was still impossible early today to give a definite estimate of the loss of life. A score or more of persons were reported missing.

Among the missing were six members of the crew of the towboat Conroy, which was sunk in the Ohio river. The other persons reported missing are believed to have been in the wrecked buildings or on some craft on the river when the storm broke.

Wilson Plays Golf, But Works at Noon

By Associated Press.
CINCINNATI, N. Y., July 9.—Another day of golf and automobile driving, with a few hours at mid-day set aside for the consideration of official business, was before President Wilson when he arose this morning. An automobile trip was planned for late in the afternoon.

HUNGRY SAILOR RESENTS CLOSING OF RESTAURANT

SAN FRANCISCO, July 9.—Edward Bennett, a sailor, was so hungry at 1:30 this morning that he flew into a passion when John Elias, a restaurant keeper of 152 Embarcadero, refused to serve him. Elias was closing his place of business and informed Bennett that he would have to go elsewhere.

In consequence of the cafe man's refusal, the sailor was charged with assault with a deadly weapon and malicious mischief. Elias says that Bennett struck him over the head with a black-jack and then went outside and smashed the plate glass window in front with his bare fist.

A patrolman found Bennett bleeding from an injury on his arm. He was identified by Elias and taken to the Harbor hospital.

SEES COMMERCIAL FUTURE REALIZED

Former Counsellor Tells of the Opening of South American Markets.

By Associated Press. FRANKFORT, Ky., July 9.—John R. Moore, former counsellor of the State Department, delivered an address before the Kentucky Bar association here last night on "The Future of the United States in the World." Moore, who has been in the United States since 1911, after having been in the United States and the state of South America.

"It is an unnatural conception, altogether artificial and likely to perish, or is it a natural growth, capable of and perhaps occasionally needing artificial stimulation, but regardless, inevitably springing from conditions from which it derives its life and sustenance, will continue to derive an ever-increasing substance." It was thus a hundred years ago, Mr. Moore said, that Simon Bolivar, living in exile in Jamaica, wrote his celebrated prophetic letter in which he said: "The destiny of America is inseparably linked to the destiny of Europe. It is not a European destiny, but a world destiny." Moore pointed out that there was no justification for the supposition that a Spanish colony would become independent.

Another example of Bolivar's vision was found in his dream that at some future day the isthmus of Panama might be for the benefit of the nations of the West what the Corinthian isthmus was for the Greeks. "Would to God," Bolivar exclaimed, "that some day we might enjoy the approval of having there an annual congress of representatives of the republics, kingdoms and empires of America to deal with the high interests of peace and war, not only between the American nations, but between them and the rest of the world."

At the time when these words were written, said Mr. Moore, "there was only one country in America whose independence was proclaimed, acknowledged and established. This country was the United States. It stood then as the great beacon light to all peoples struggling for liberty and self-government. What was to be the attitude of the United States towards the struggling people to the south? Did the United States hold within its borders a man of broad and generous sympathies, a man of faith and of vision, who could look into the future and with hope and confidence predict for the provision of Spain a destiny such as that which their own prophets had had recourse to forecast?"

LOCAL STAR JOINS MOVIES

MARTA GOLDEN.

Miss Marta Golden, a popular favorite with Oakland theater-goers, and until recently a prominent member of the Liberty company, is now allied with the famous Charlie Chaplin in his fun-making antics. When Miss Golden first considered motion picture work a few months ago she was invited by J. J. Robbins, manager of the Esplanade studios at Niles, to screen one of her own ideas in an original conception of proper and improper table manners. The film proved so strikingly unique and gave Miss Golden such an excellent opportunity for displaying her histrionic ability in comic character roles that she was approached with an offering contract as a member of Charlie Chaplin's comedy company. She accepted and immediately proceeded to make arrangements for closing her engagement in Oakland.

Miss Golden will be seen in a prominent part in "The Woman," Tuesday and Wednesday. The film is a comedy, which is scheduled for release on Sunday. It will be shown at the Franklin theater Sunday, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

A pair of tickets good at any performance Monday, Tuesday or Wednesday will be given absolutely FREE with each 5c cash "WANT AD" inserted in next Sunday's Tribune. Ads accepted at the following offices: Main office, Eighth and Franklin streets; branch office, 1421 Broadway; Berkeley office, 1421 Broadway; San Francisco office, 682 Market street.

STEAMBOATS BURNED TO WATER AND SUNK

WENATCHEE, Wash., July 9.—Four steamboats of the Columbia and Okanogan Steamboat Company were totally destroyed by fire yesterday. The fire, originating from an unknown source, spread quickly and was beyond control within five minutes. Three of the boats, the Columbia, Okanogan and North Star, were burned to the water's edge, and their machinery sank into the river. The fourth, the Chehalis, was only partially burned, but is totally useless. The loss is $50,000, uninsured.

FRECKLES

Don't Hide Them with a Veil; Remove Them With The Othine Prescription. This prescription for the removal of freckles was written by a prominent physician and is usually so successful in removing freckles and giving a clear, beautiful complexion that it is sold by druggists under guarantee to refund the money if it fails.

Don't hide your freckles under a veil; get an ounce of othine and remove them. Even the first few applications should show a wonderful improvement, some of the lighter freckles vanishing entirely.

Be sure to ask the druggist for the double strength othine; it is this that is sold on the money-back guarantee. —Advertisement.

NEW CRISIS IN BRITISH CABINET

Intrigue to Restore Lord Haldane Is Alleged by Northcliffe.

By Associated Press. LONDON, July 9, 3:15 a. m.—The official announcement by David Lloyd-George, the Minister of Munitions, July 7, regarding Viscount Haldane, ex-Lord Chancellor and Secretary of War, and the question of the supply of munitions, has started a political sensation in the United Kingdom of the first order, and it is being made the most of by the Northcliffe press to prevent what is declared to be an intrigue to get Lord Haldane back into the cabinet.

Premier Asquith's remarkable tribute to Viscount Haldane, which was read at a meeting of the National Liberal Club July 5, was regarded as paving the way for some attempt of this kind. Although most people take the view that it is inadvisable during the progress of the war to have these personal questions thrust upon the public, a small body of politicians is trying to force a parliamentary discussion.

Sir Henry Dabiel, Liberal member for Kirkcaldy Burghs, has given notice that he will ask Premier Asquith in the House of Commons on Monday whether Lord Haldane's disclosures of the proceedings of a confidential committee of the cabinet were made with the Premier's authority, and it seems as though the government will hardly be able to avoid a public discussion.

ASK DISCUSSION DAY.

Premier Asquith will be asked to grant one day for a full discussion of the causes responsible for the deficiency of munitions. Lord Haldane has kept a complete silence regarding the controversy.

The Northcliffe press publishes an appeal which it urges its readers to sign and send to the government, protesting against the re-admission of Viscount Haldane to the cabinet.

The Daily Mail this morning started a campaign in favor of forming what it calls a "people's committee," composed of business men of high reputation who have never been connected with Parliament or party journalism, with powers to call for evidence and report to Parliament as to "what servants of the state, by whose negligence or incompetence the fate of the empire has been endangered are still holding office under the government."

KITCHENER UNDER FIRE.

The Daily Chronicle says: "In some quarters it is rumored that Major General Stanley von Lounp, master general of ordnance, does not resign. The secret history of the ordnance committee is obviously not the proper subject for a controversy. It is a matter worthy of note, however, that the chairman of the committee was neither Lord Haldane nor Mr. Lloyd-George, but was Lord Kitchener."
